United Nations Secretary General

Kofi Annan

On February 5, 2001, Kofi Annan made a historic visit to Seton Hall University. He made his first public address of the year on a U.N. initiative, the Year of Dialogue among Civilizations, which focuses on increasing tolerance and understanding among the world's peoples and cultures. Annan's visit is the result of the School of Diplomacy's role in the United Nations Year of Dialogue among Civilizations. The school has been selected to serve as the coordinating Secretariat for the Dialogue, which emphasizes the benefits of cultural diversity and the role of the individual in global relations. Seton Hall University proudly bestows the Doctor of Human Services, honoris causa, and the Global Citizen Award.

On this momentous occasion, Mr. Annan shares his thoughts on the Dialogue among Civilizations and how the idea is rooted in the fundamental values that the United Nations has sought to advance for over half a century. "The concept provides a useful context for advancing cooperation over conflict. It helps us draw on the deeper, ancient roots of cultures and civilizations to find what unites us across all boundaries, and shows us that the past can provide signposts to unity just as easily as enmity. The Dialogue can help us to discern the role of culture and civilization in contemporary conflicts, and so to distinguish propaganda and false history from the real causes of war. This in turn should ease the path to peace."

"The Dialogue among Civilizations should be held at Seton Hall, and it should be held at the United Nations, and wherever people of good will seek to bridge the differences and advance peace, drawing on the best of humanity's rich and diverse past to improve our common future."

ACADEMICS

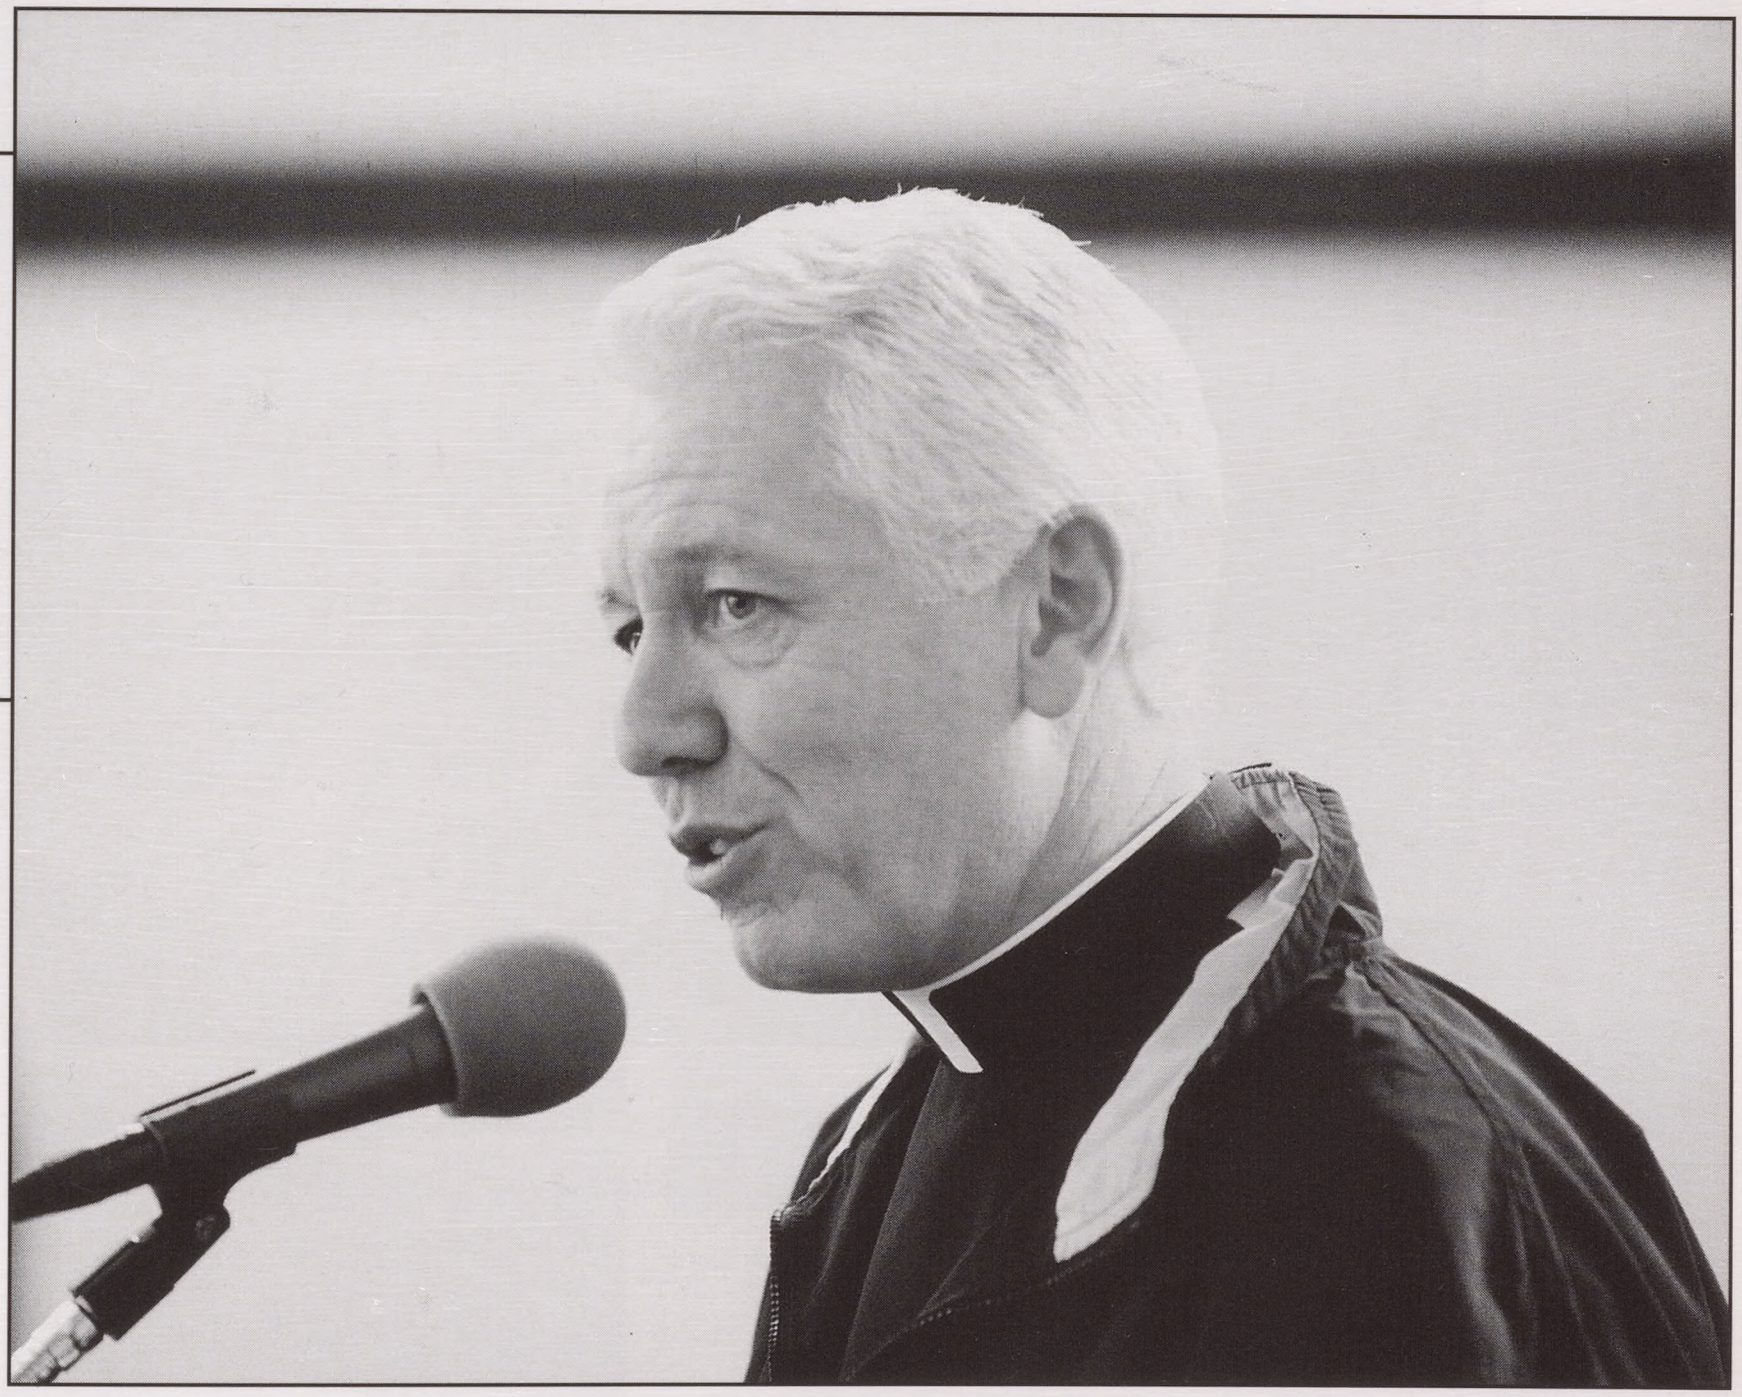

Monsignor Robert Sheeran, S.T.D.

University President

Remember courage, and trust that God is near.
Remember compassion, the courage to care.
On these life is built. And love is learned.

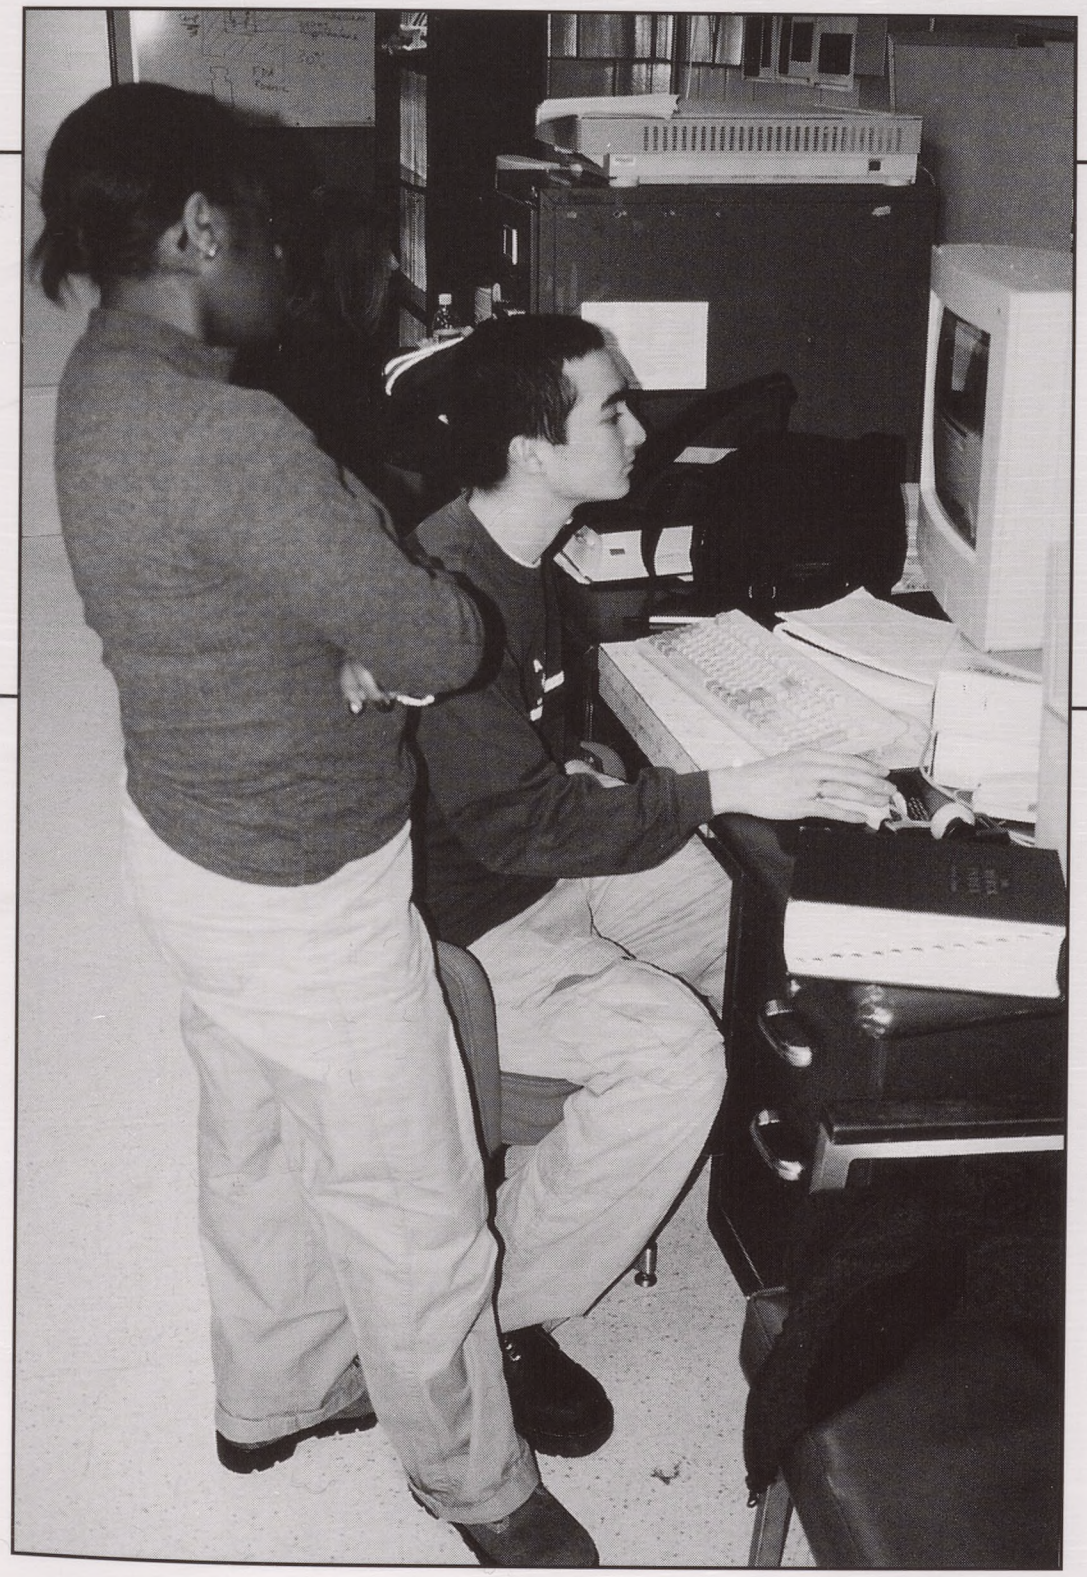

James VanOosting

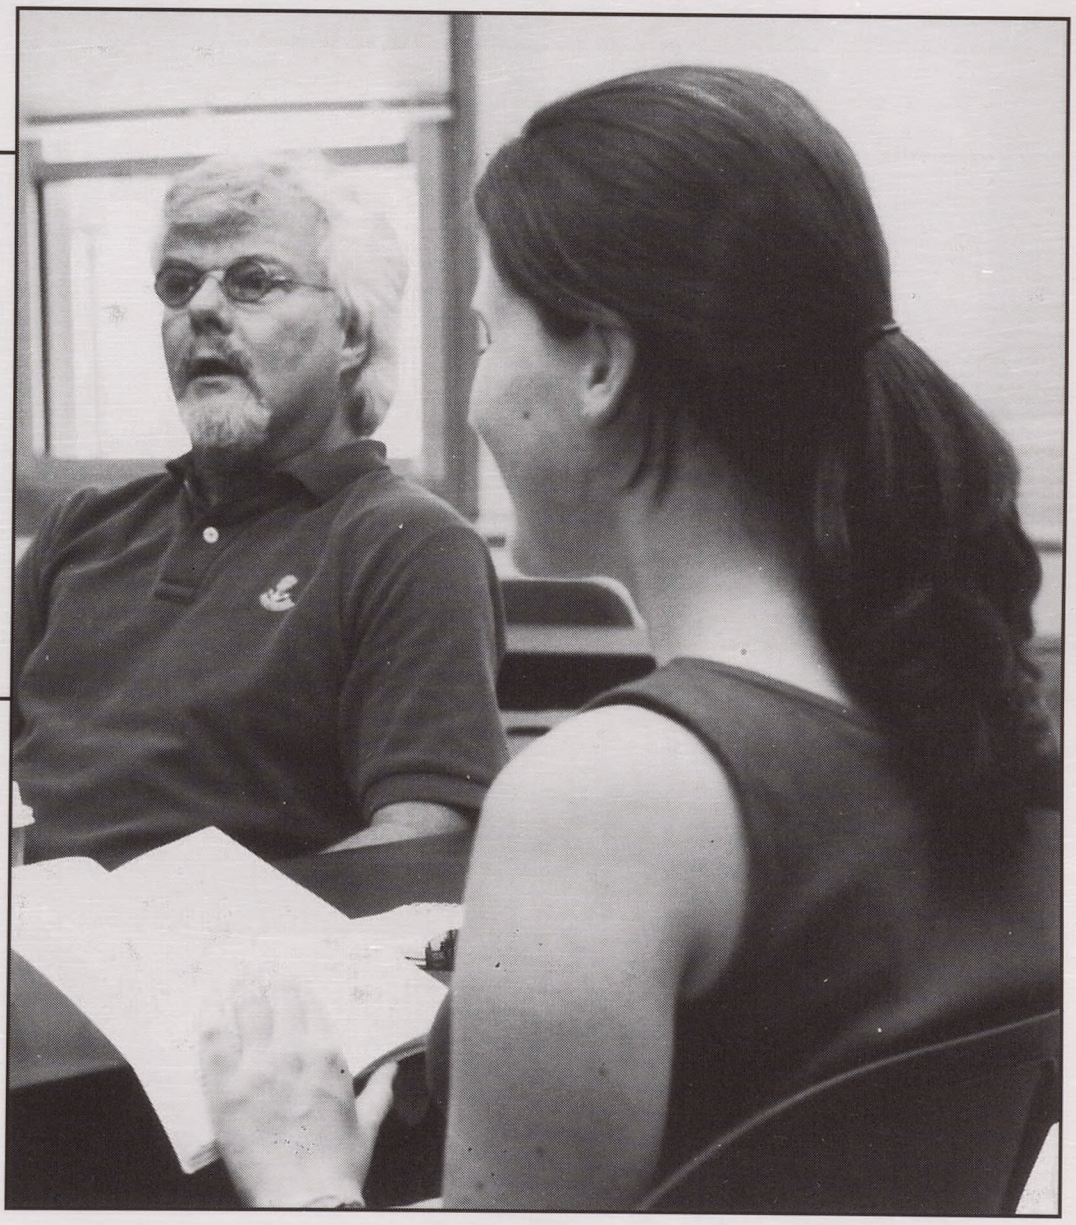

Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences

To the Class of 2001, I wish an extrapolation of a thought from James Balwin: "May you always understand the real questions hidden inside any answer."

Karen E. Boroff

Dean of the Paul W. Stillman School of Business

Congratulations Stillman students! We are so proud of your achievements and look forward to learning about your future professional and personal successes. Please keep in touch with the Stillman School. Know that the faculty and I look forward to seeing you back on campus!

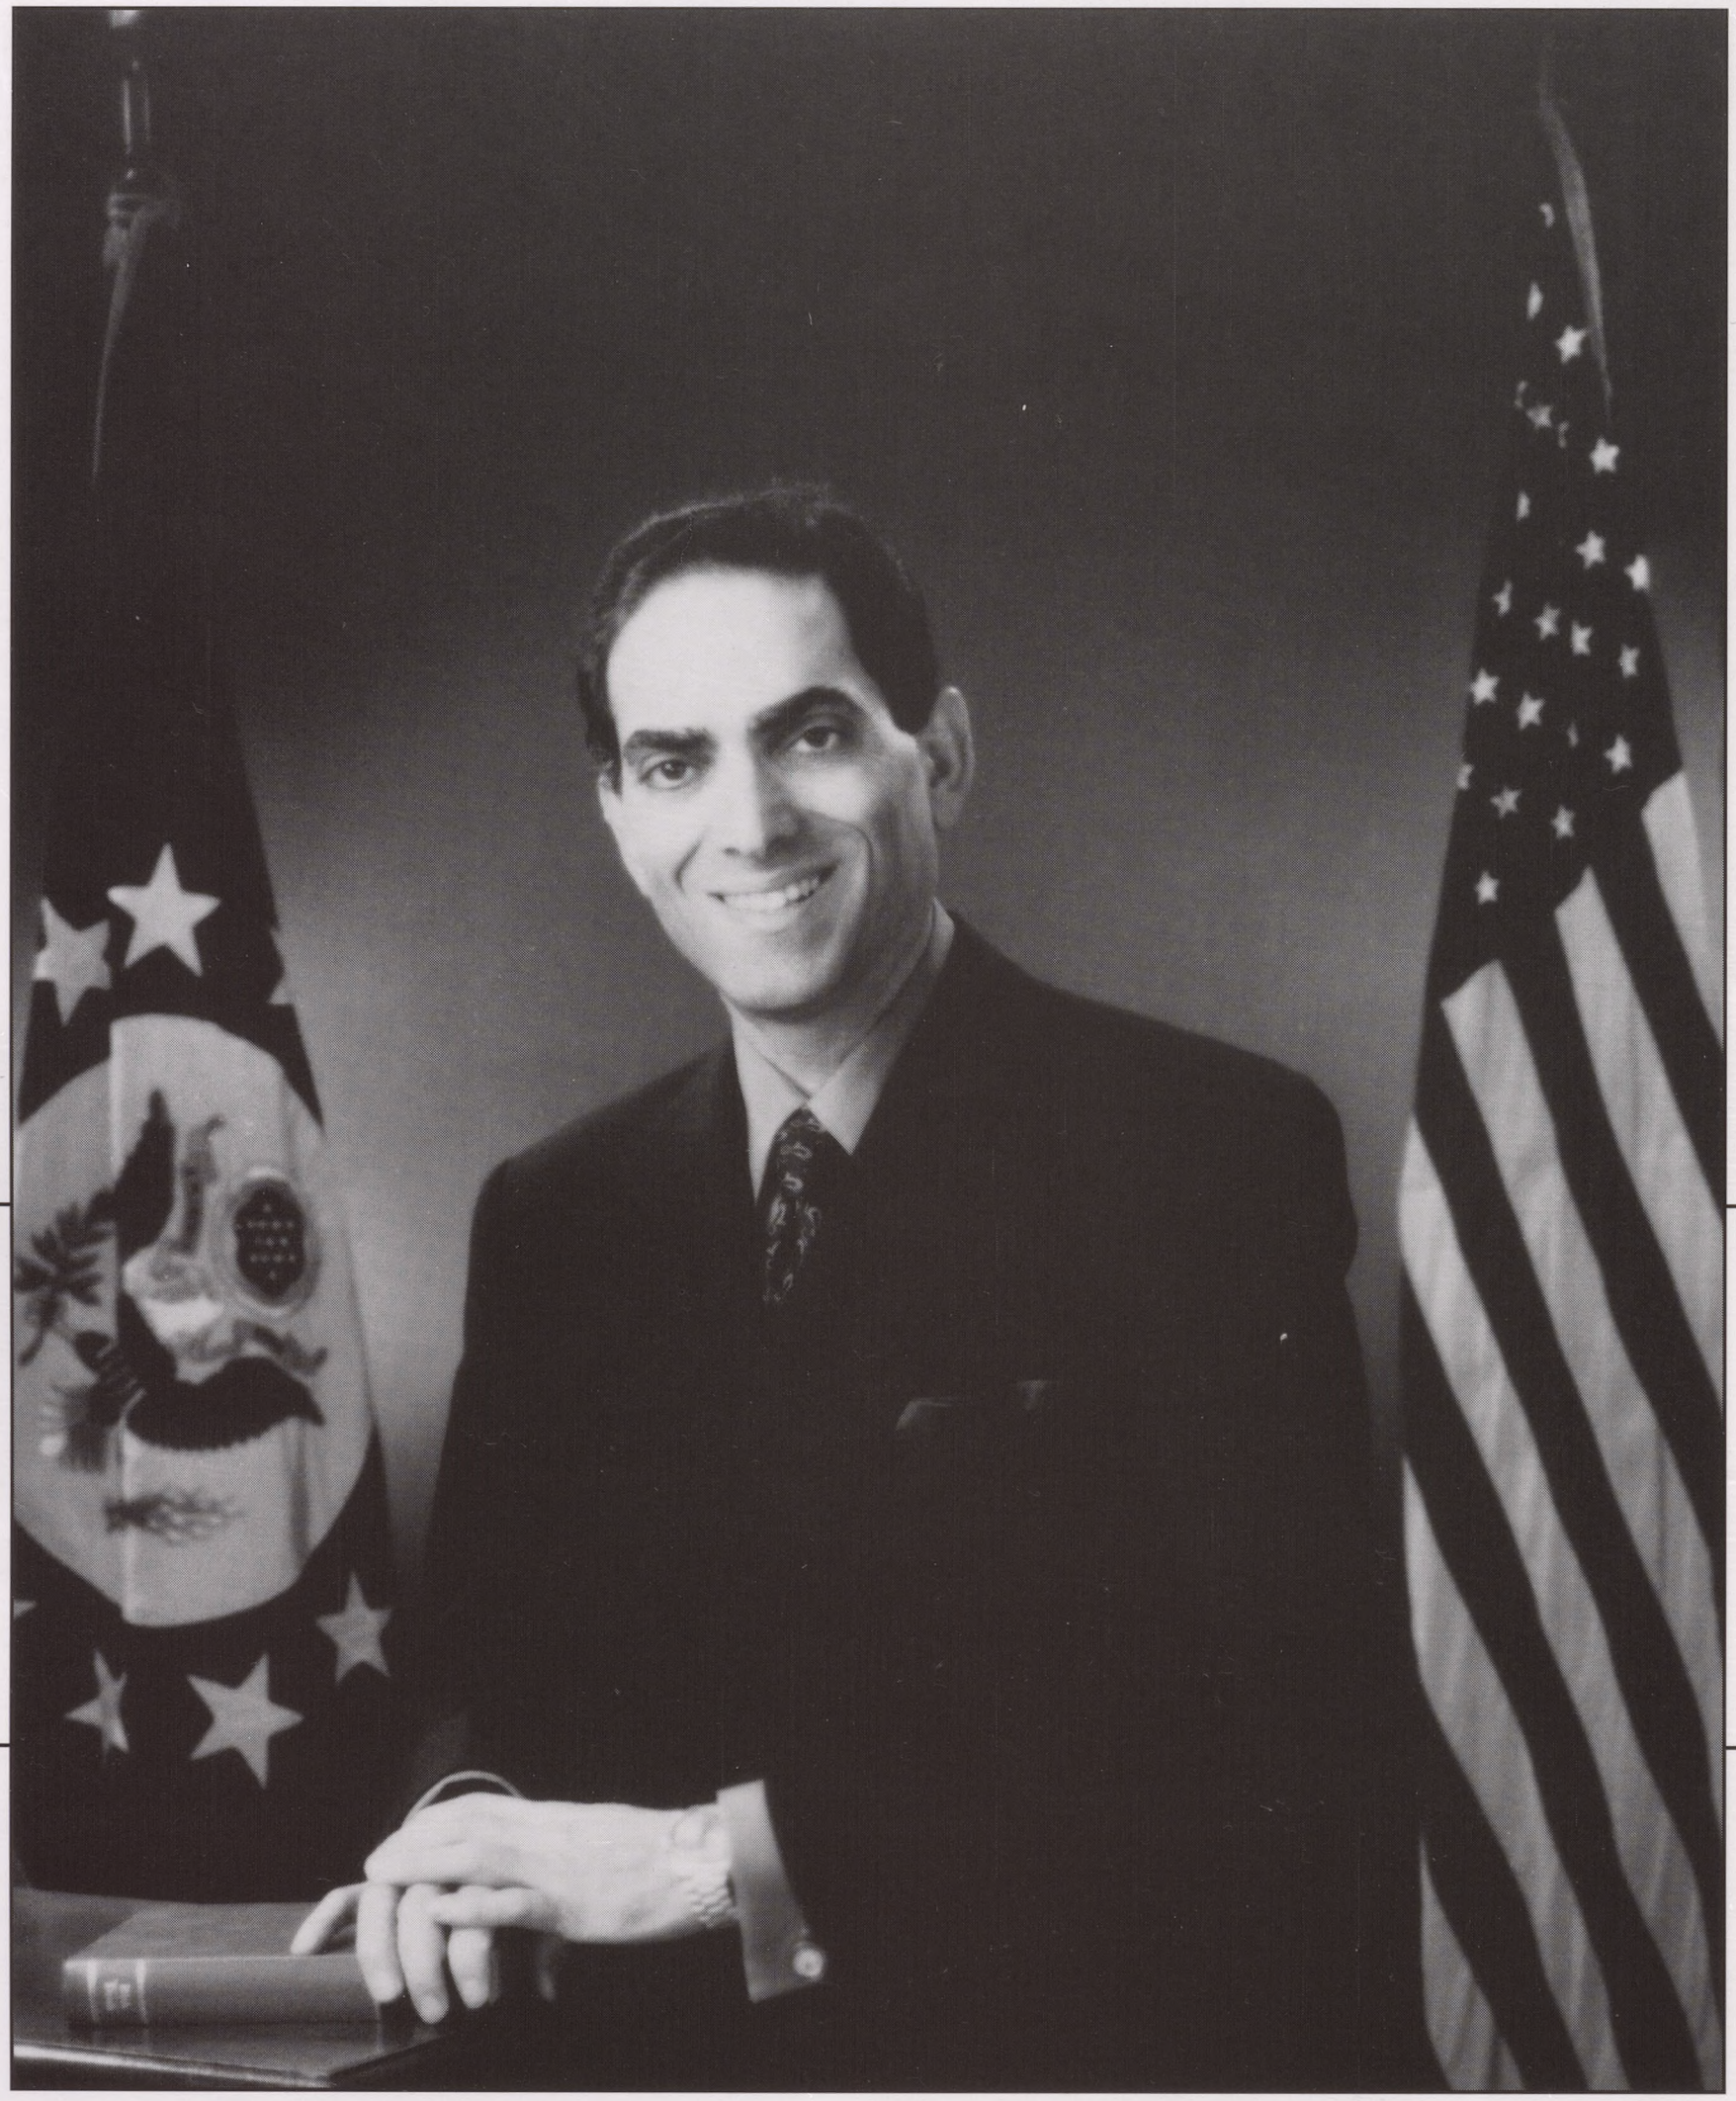

Amb. Clay Constantinou (Ret.)

Dean of the School of Diplomacy & International Relations

- Never stop learning
- Stand up for your principles and ideas
- Don't fear changes but respect time honored values and traditions
- Work hard to grow intellectually, to develop your skills and above all to make a worth while contribution by serving others

Stephanie J. Molnar, one of three national recipients of a Pamela Harriman Foreign Service Fellowship, and Ambassador Clay Constantinou (ret.), Dean of the School of Diplomacy and International Relations. Molnar, a Provost Scholar and Edward J. Blounstein Scholar, has interned in both the New York and Washington D.C. offices of the U.S. Department of State for the past two years.

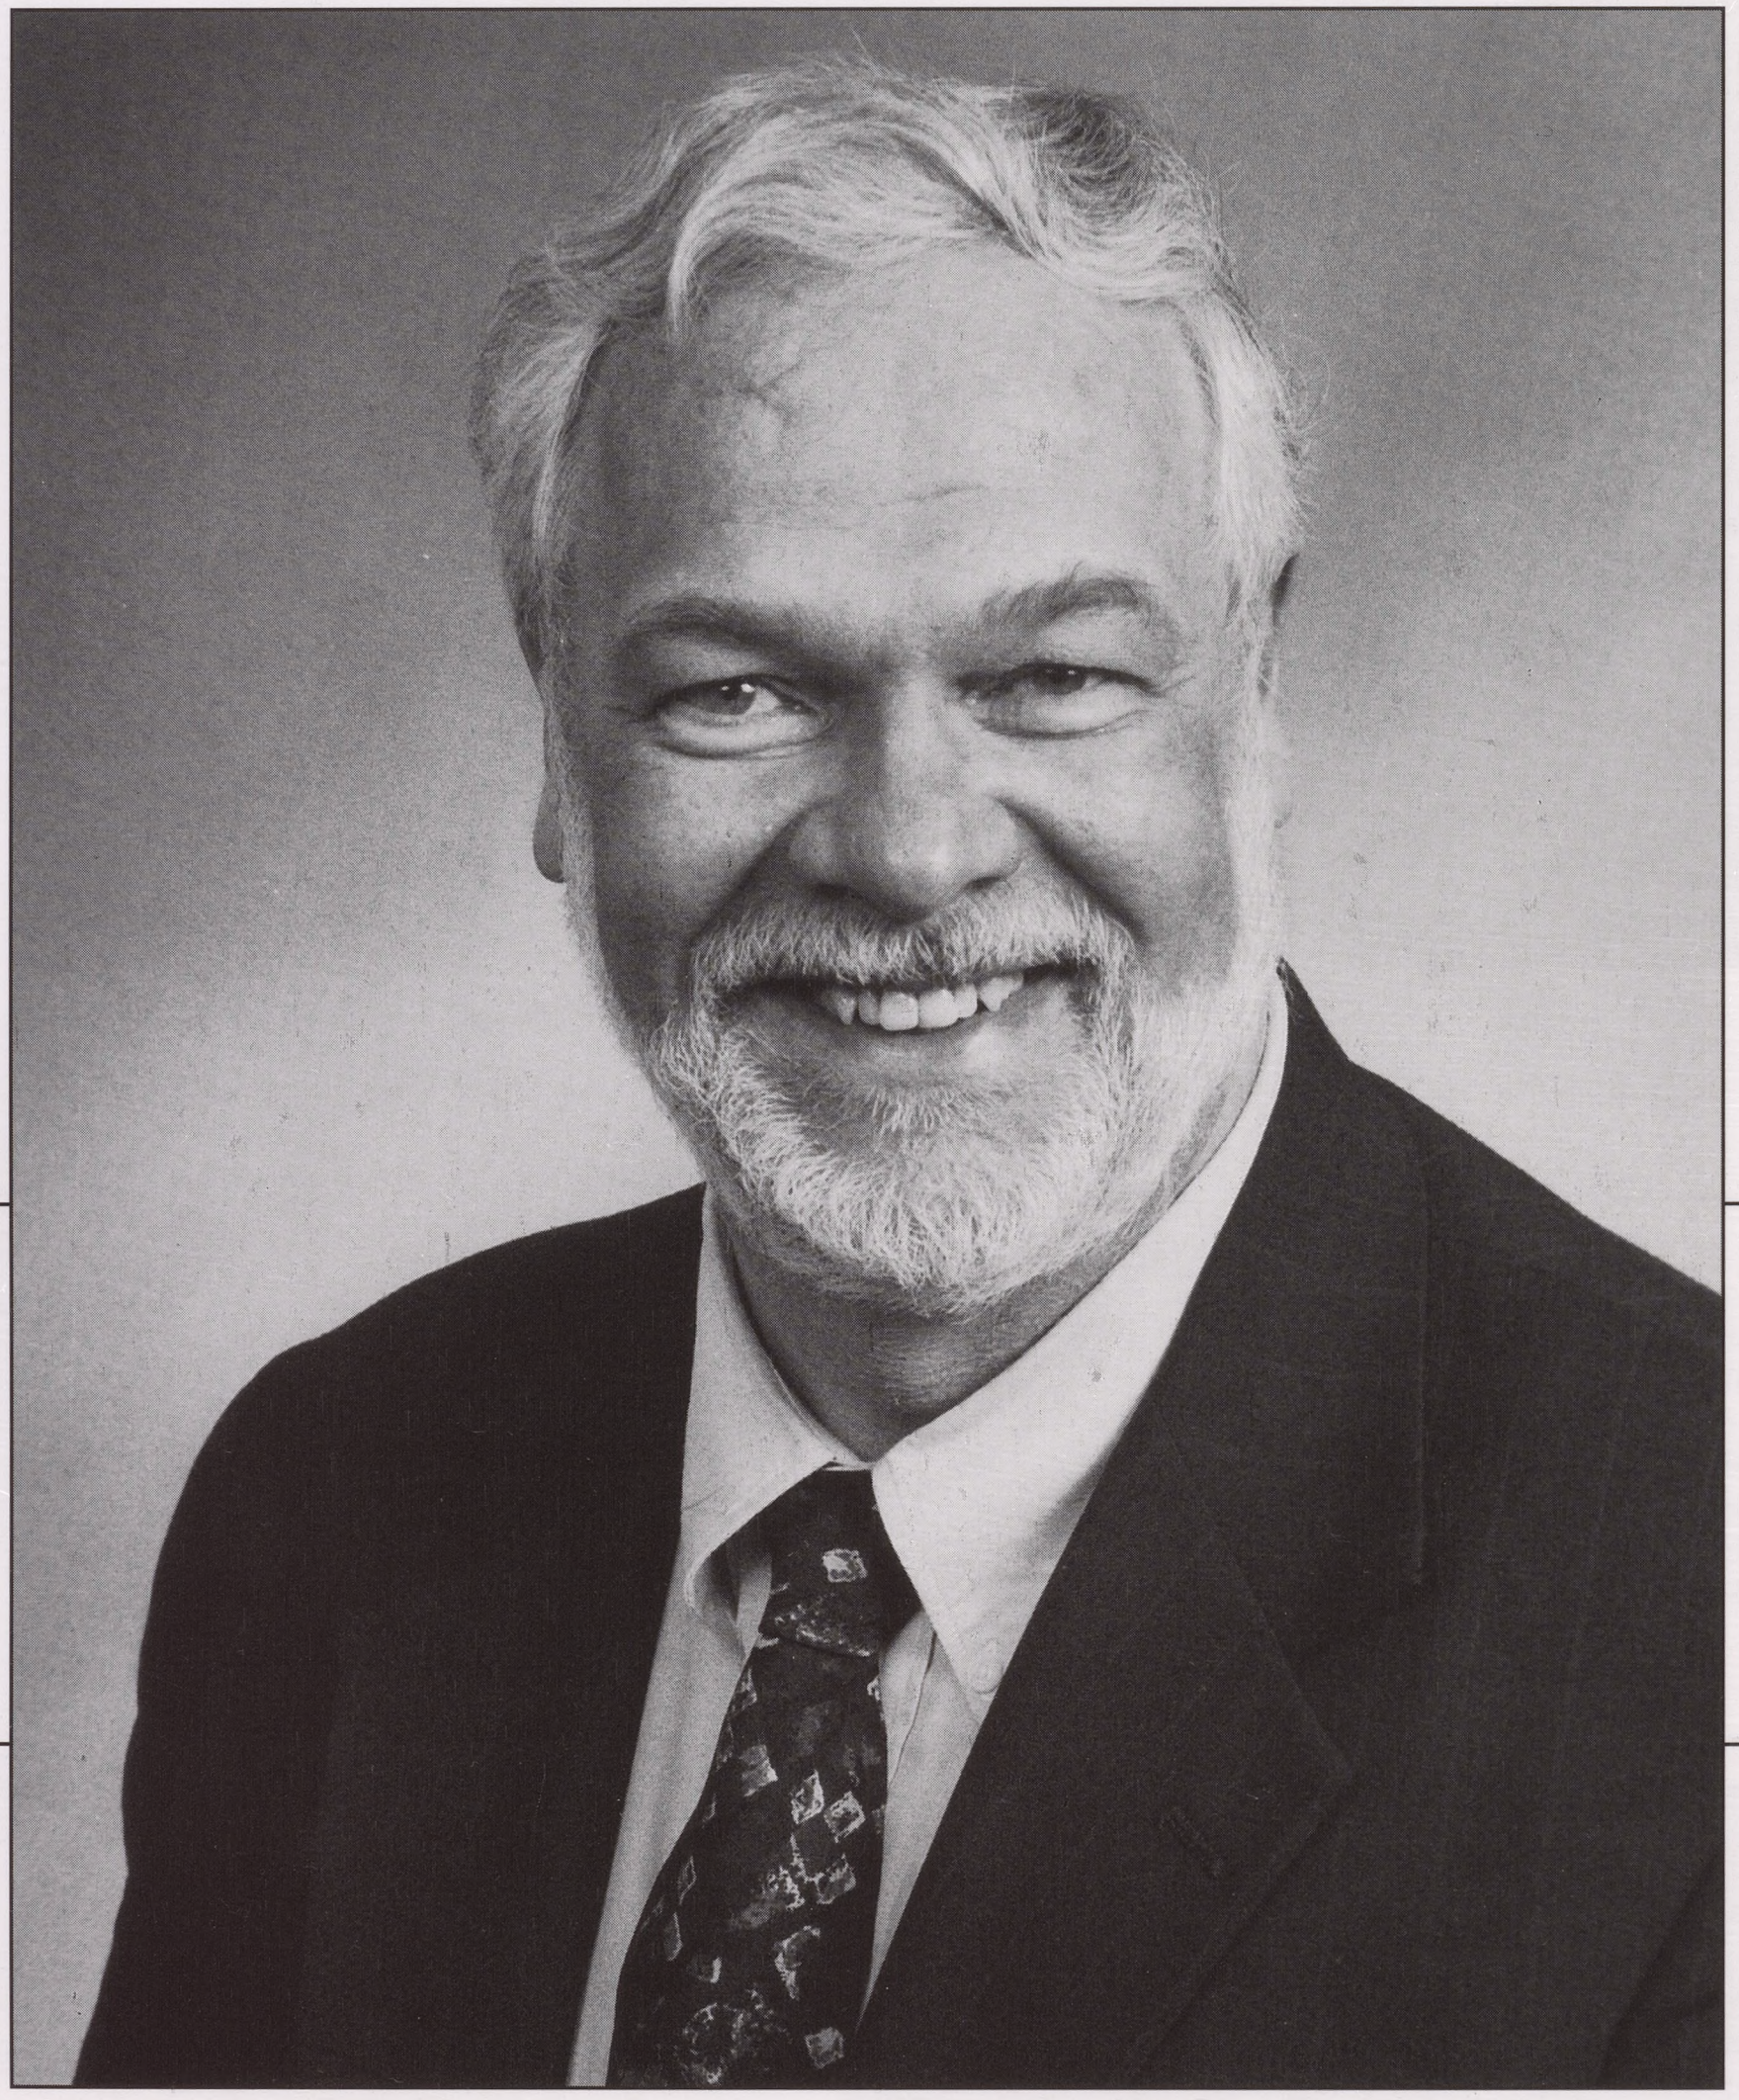

The School of Diplomacy and International Relations and the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology award an honorary degree to His Eminence Angelo Cardinal Sodano, Vatican Secretary of State. (Left to Right) Ambassador Clay Constantinou (ret.), student Carolina Moreno, Monsignor Robert Sheeran, H.E. Cardinal Sodano and Cardinal Theodore McCarrick.

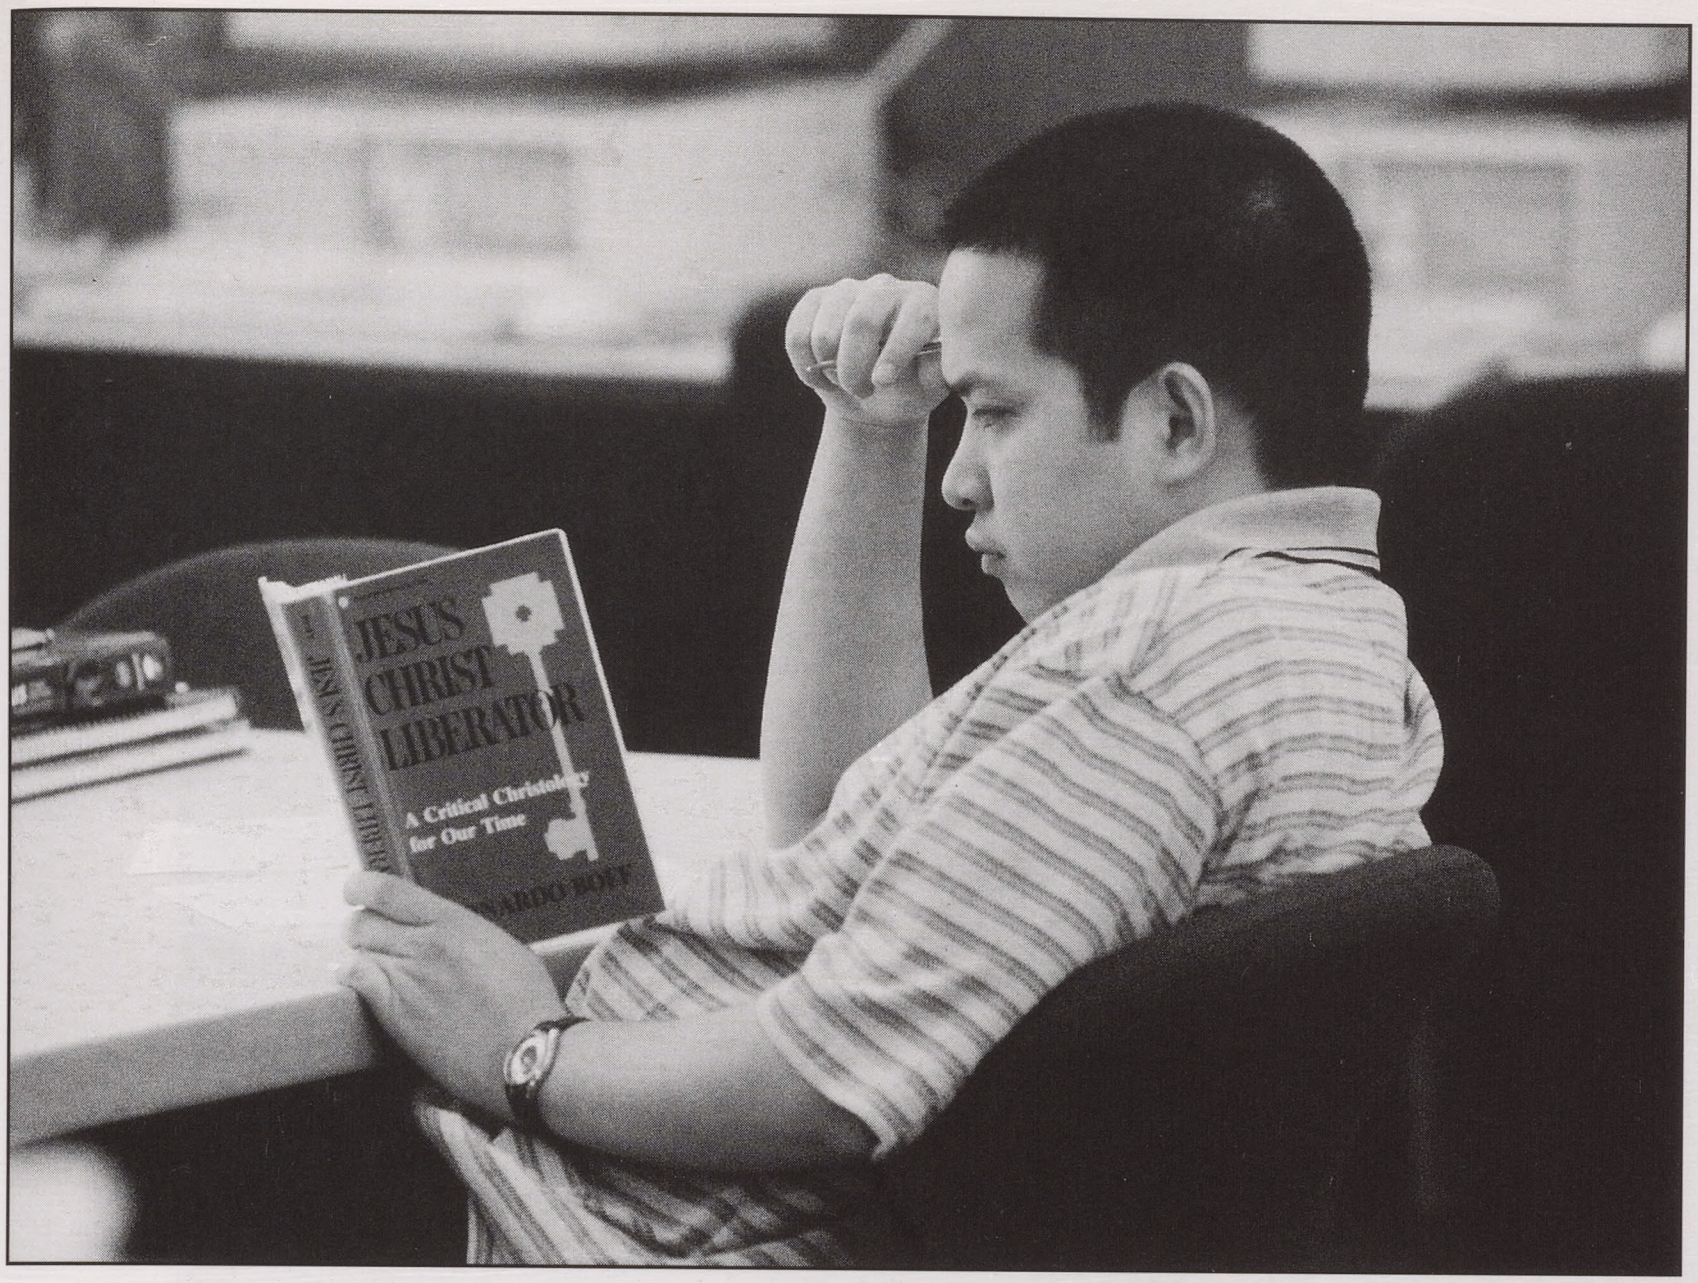

The Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Luxembourg receive a delegation of students at the Royal Palace of Luxembourg. Grand Duchess Maria Teresa is the Honorary Chair of the School's Board of Overseers.

Arthur W. Hafner, Ph.D.

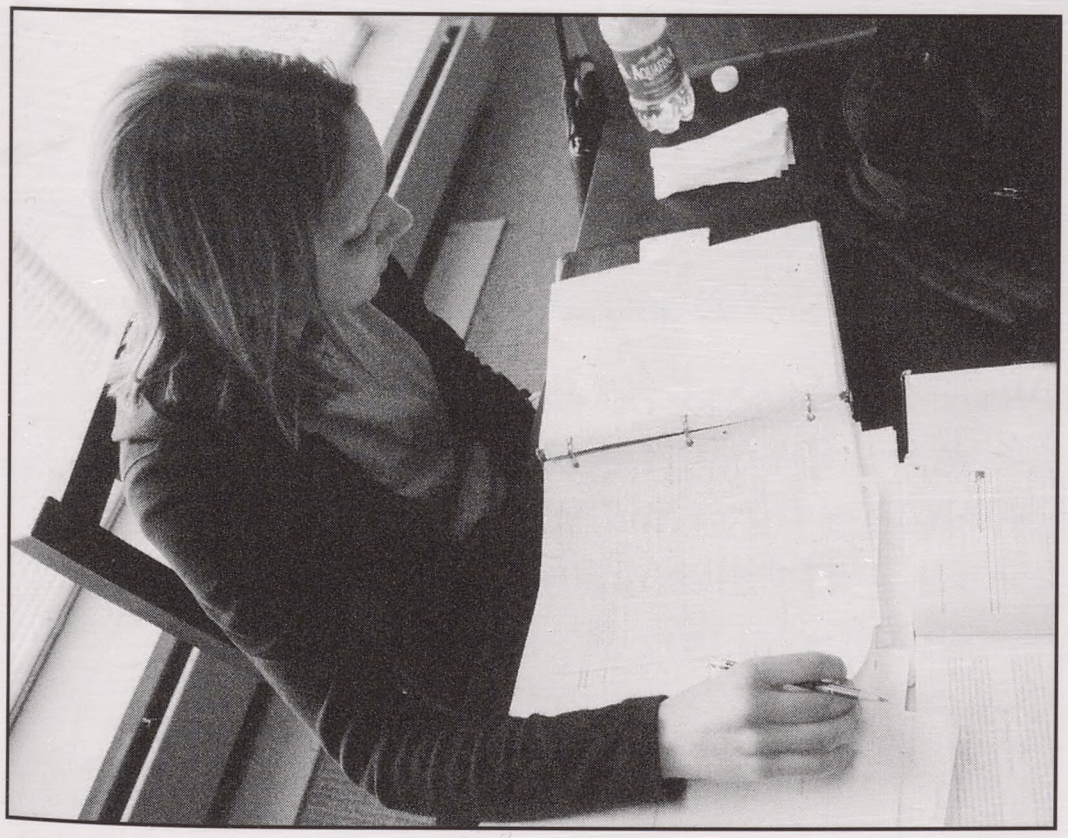

Dean of University Libraries

Congratulations Class of 2001! You have made many people proud of your great accomplishment. Be quick to build on your achievement by setting new goals to find the opportunities that are waiting for you. Everything begins with an idea and happens through action. I wish you well.

JESUS CHRIST LIBERATOR
A Critical Christology for Our Time

Dr. John Paterson III

Dean Emeritus of the School of Graduate Medical Education

"I will neither give a deadly drug to anybody if asked for it, nor will I make a suggestion to this effect. Similiarly I will not give to a woman an abortive remedy. In purity and holiness I will guard my life and my art."

"Hippocratic Collection" –The Oath

Phyllis Shanley Hansell, Ed.D., RN

Dean of the School of Nursing

Congratulations on your graduation from Seton Hall University! The principals, values and knowledge that you have gained at Seton Hall are yours forever and will serve you well in life. Use all that you have acquired at Seton Hall to live a good life and to make the world a better place. I look forward to your future accomplishments as you take the name of Seton Hall University wherever you go. Hazard Zet Forward!

SENIOR PROM

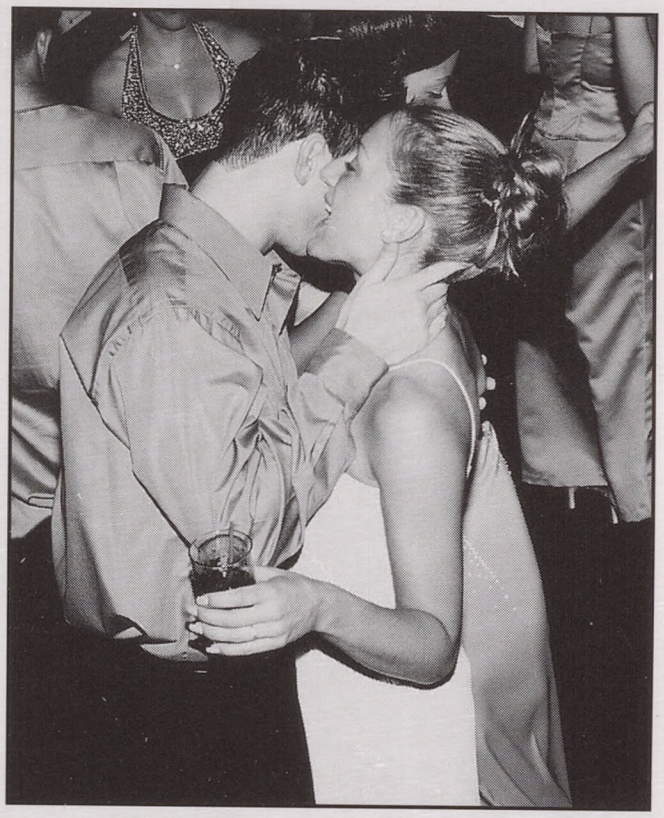

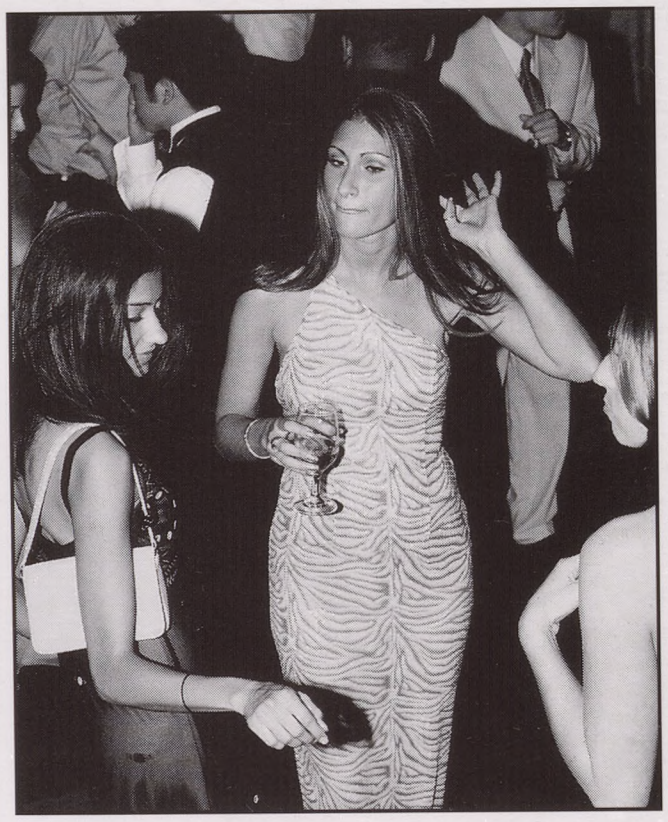

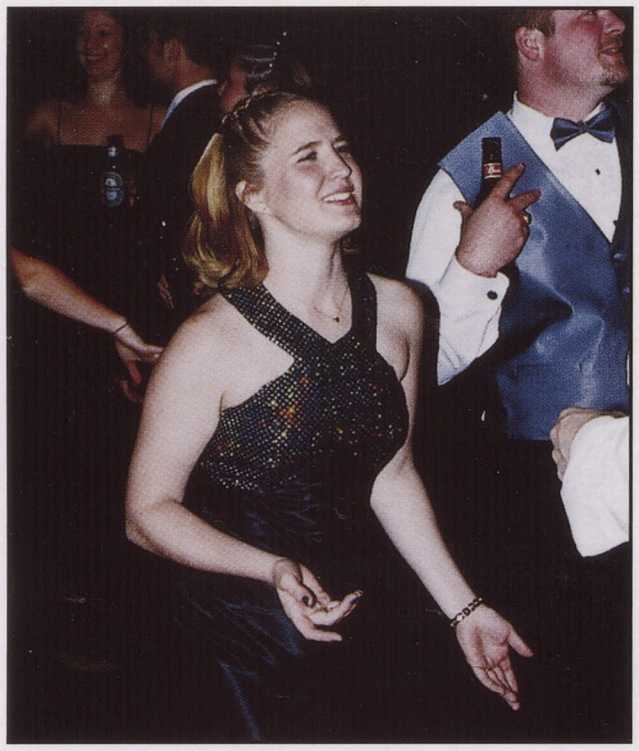

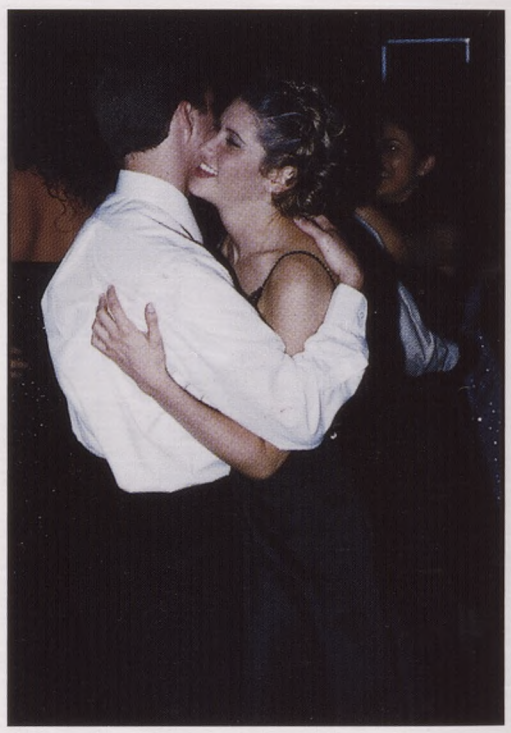

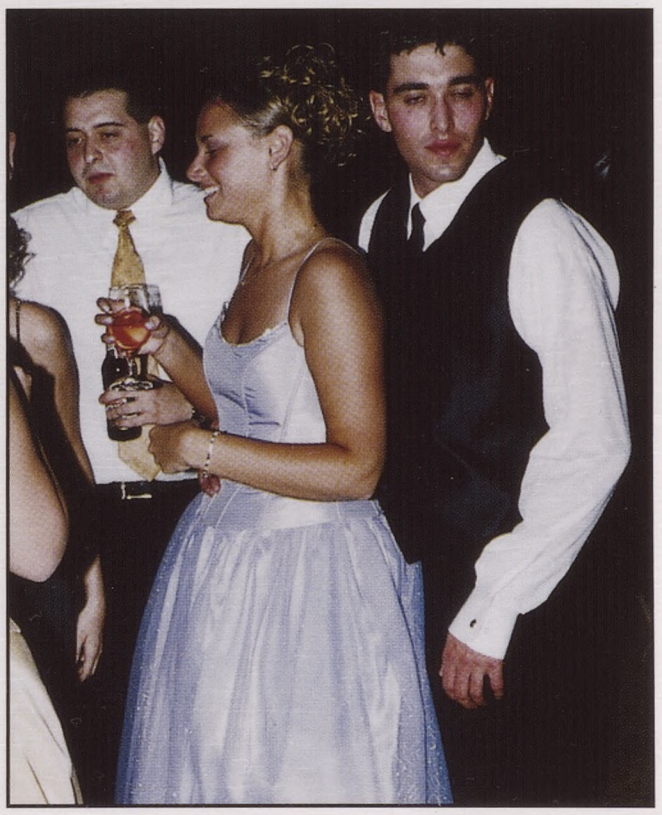

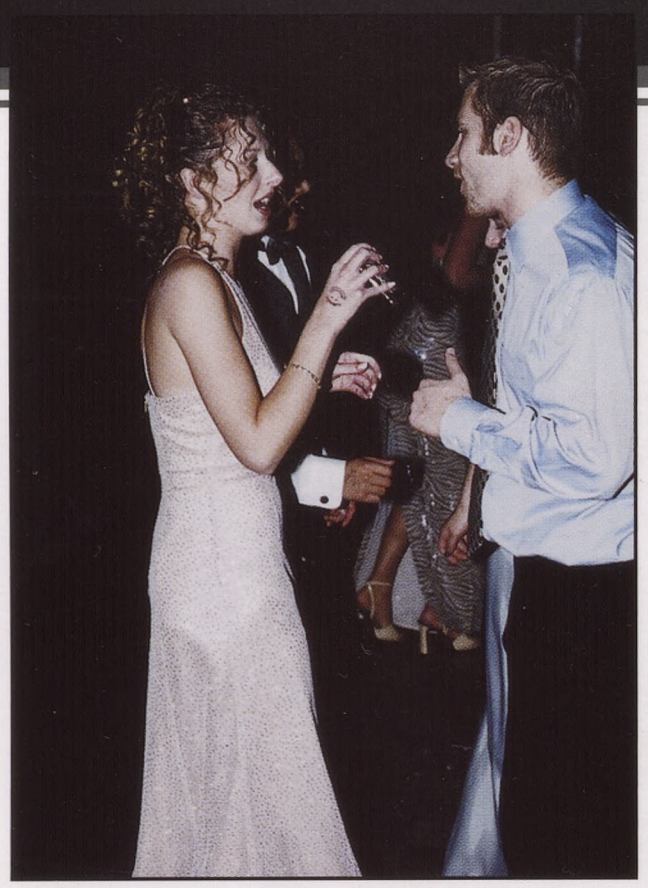

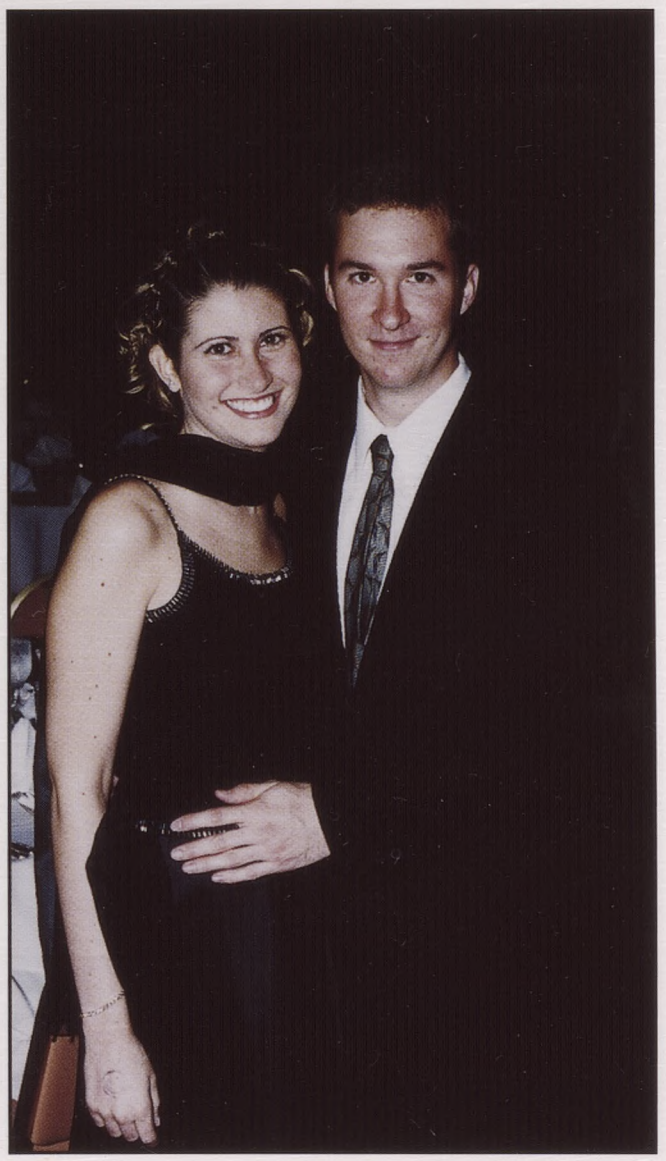

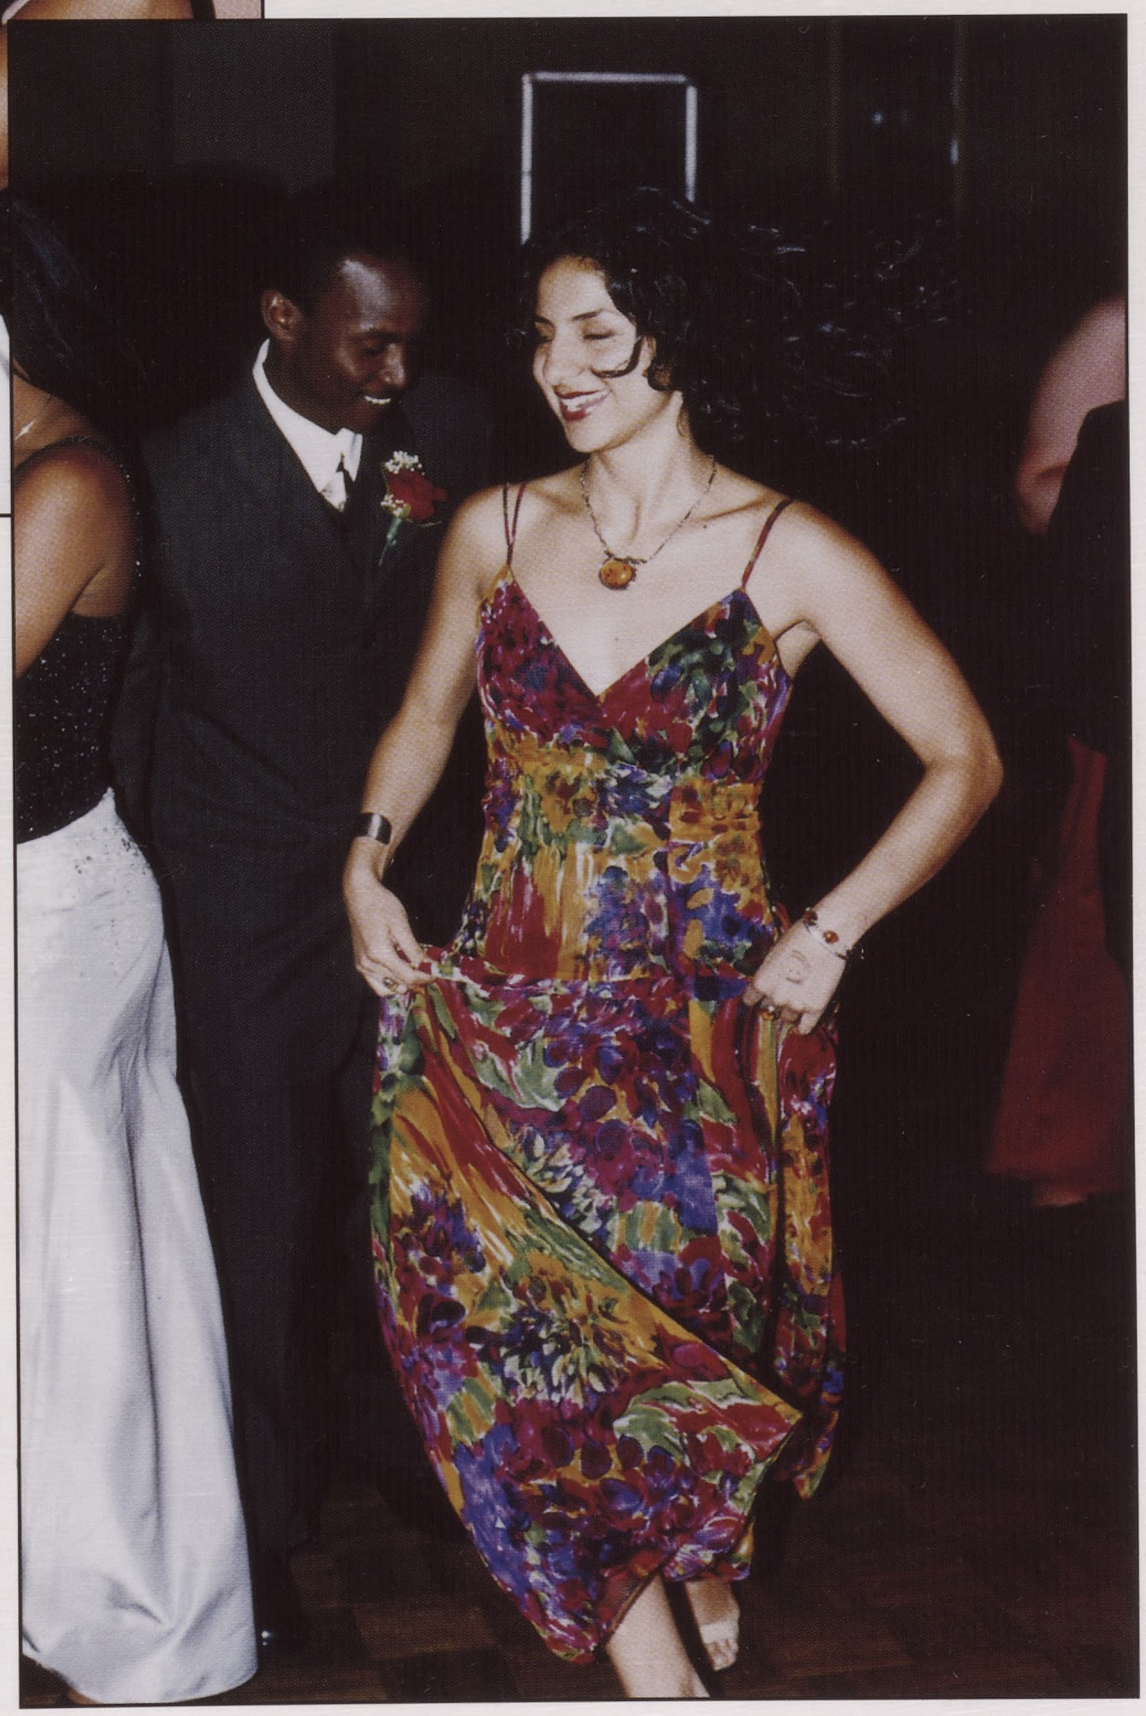

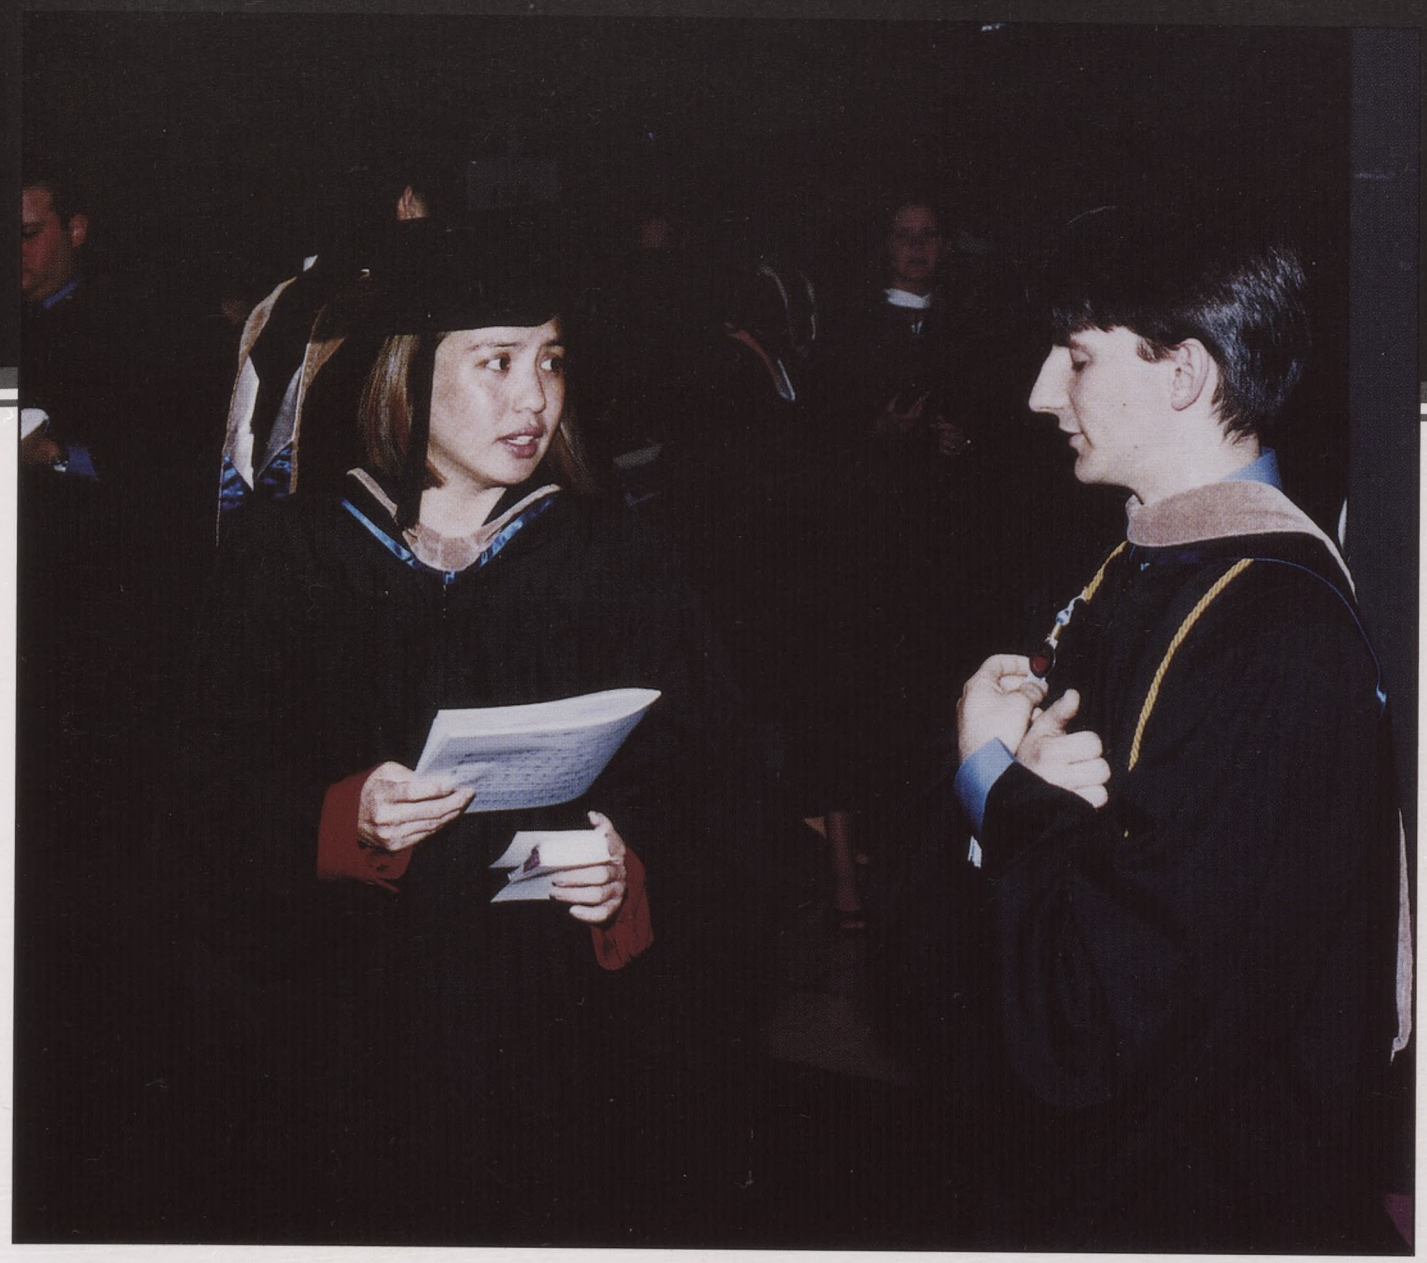

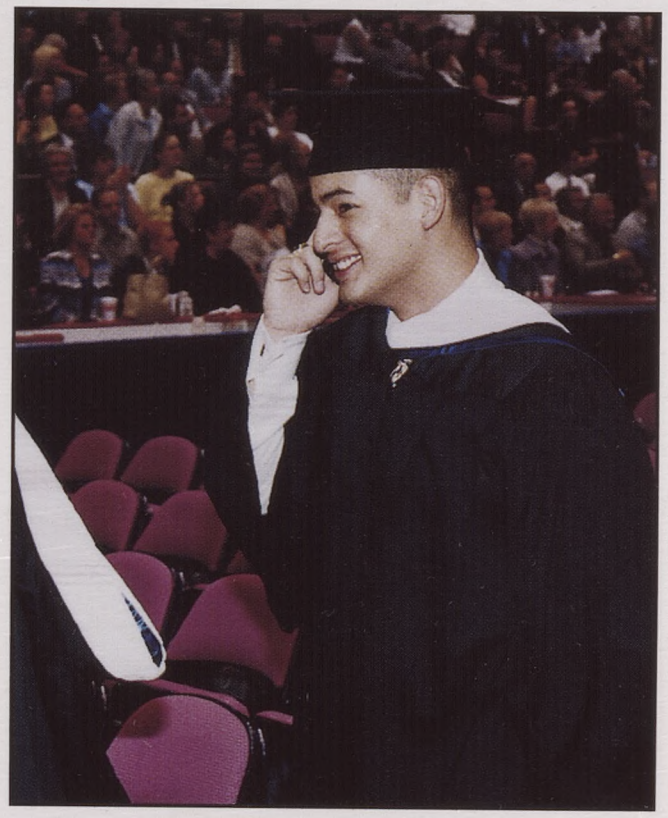

COMMENCEMENT

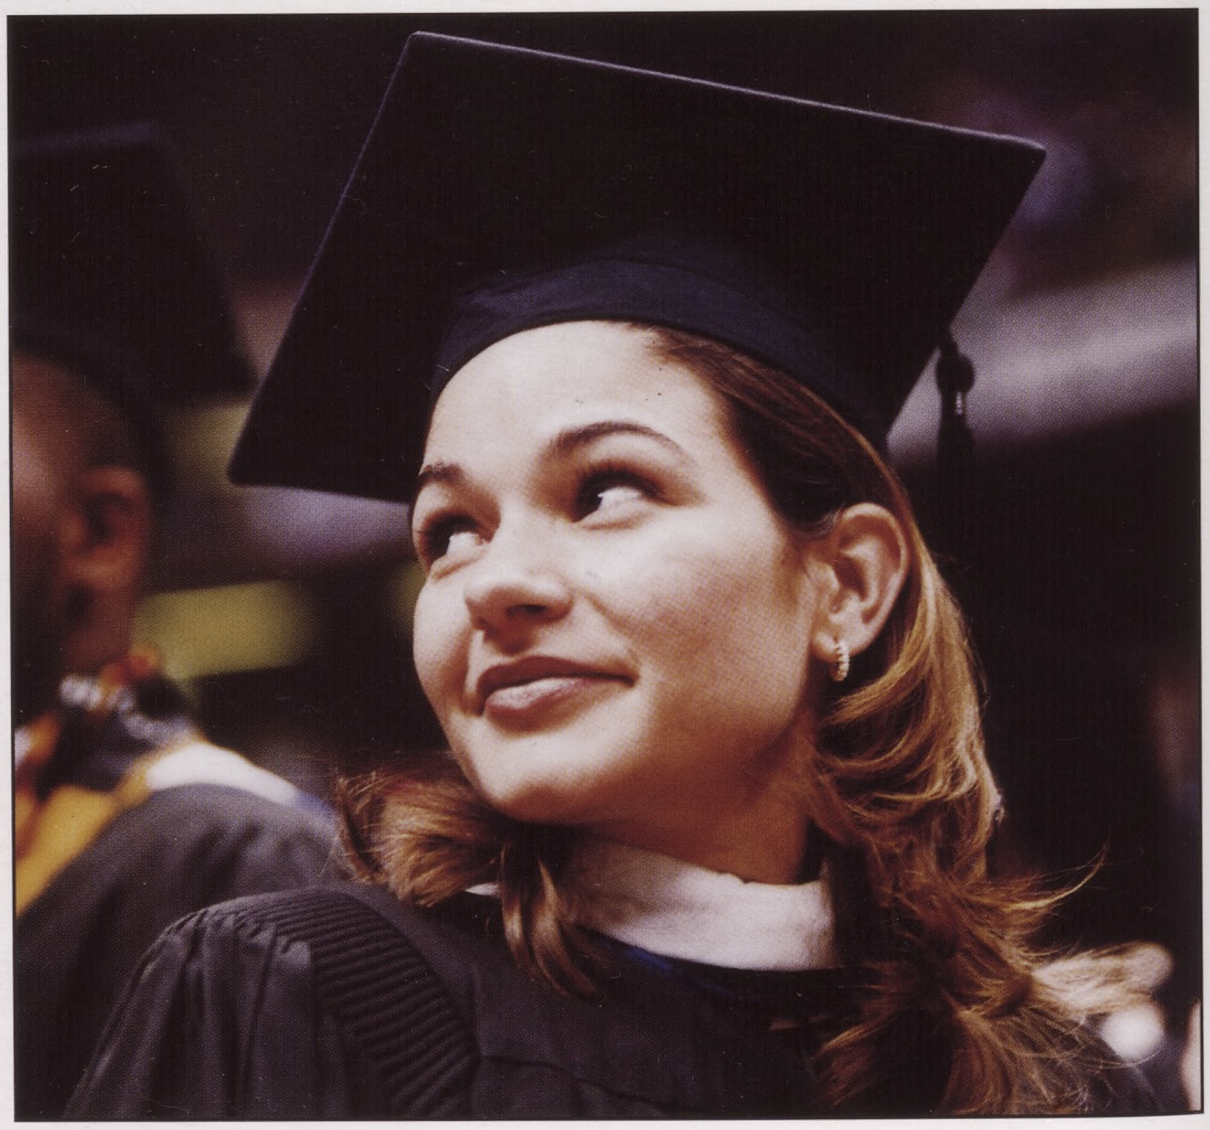

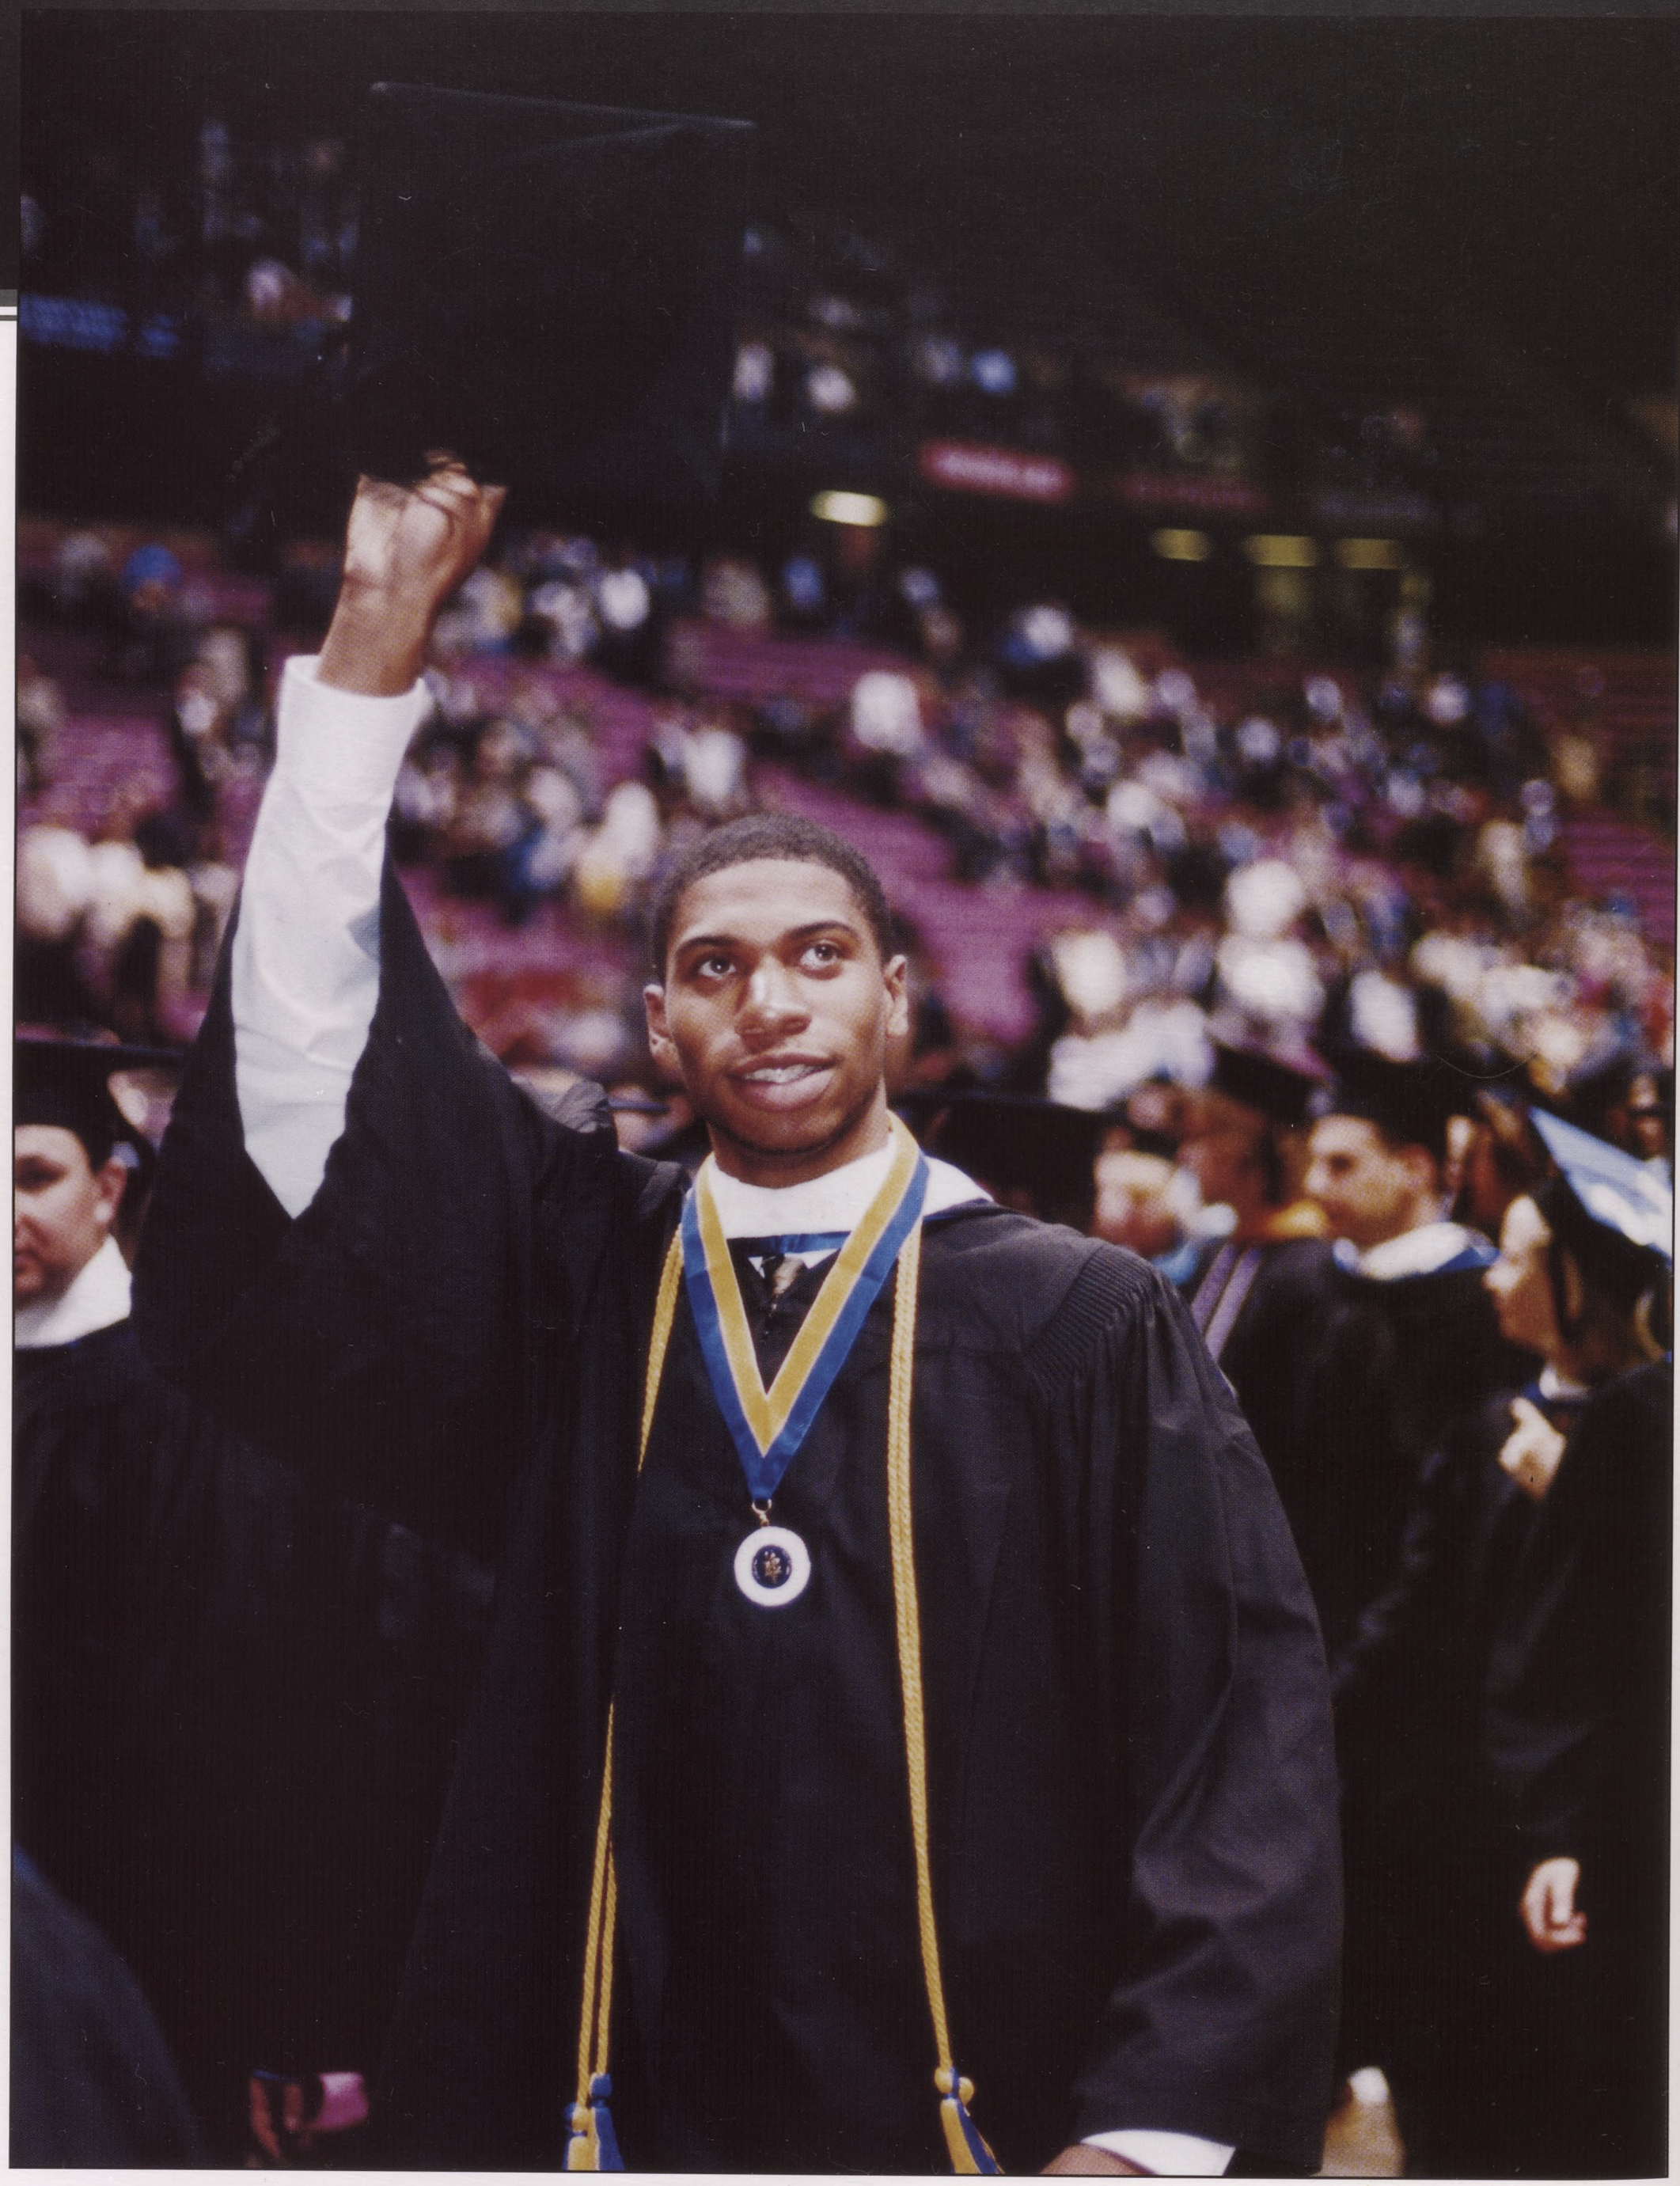

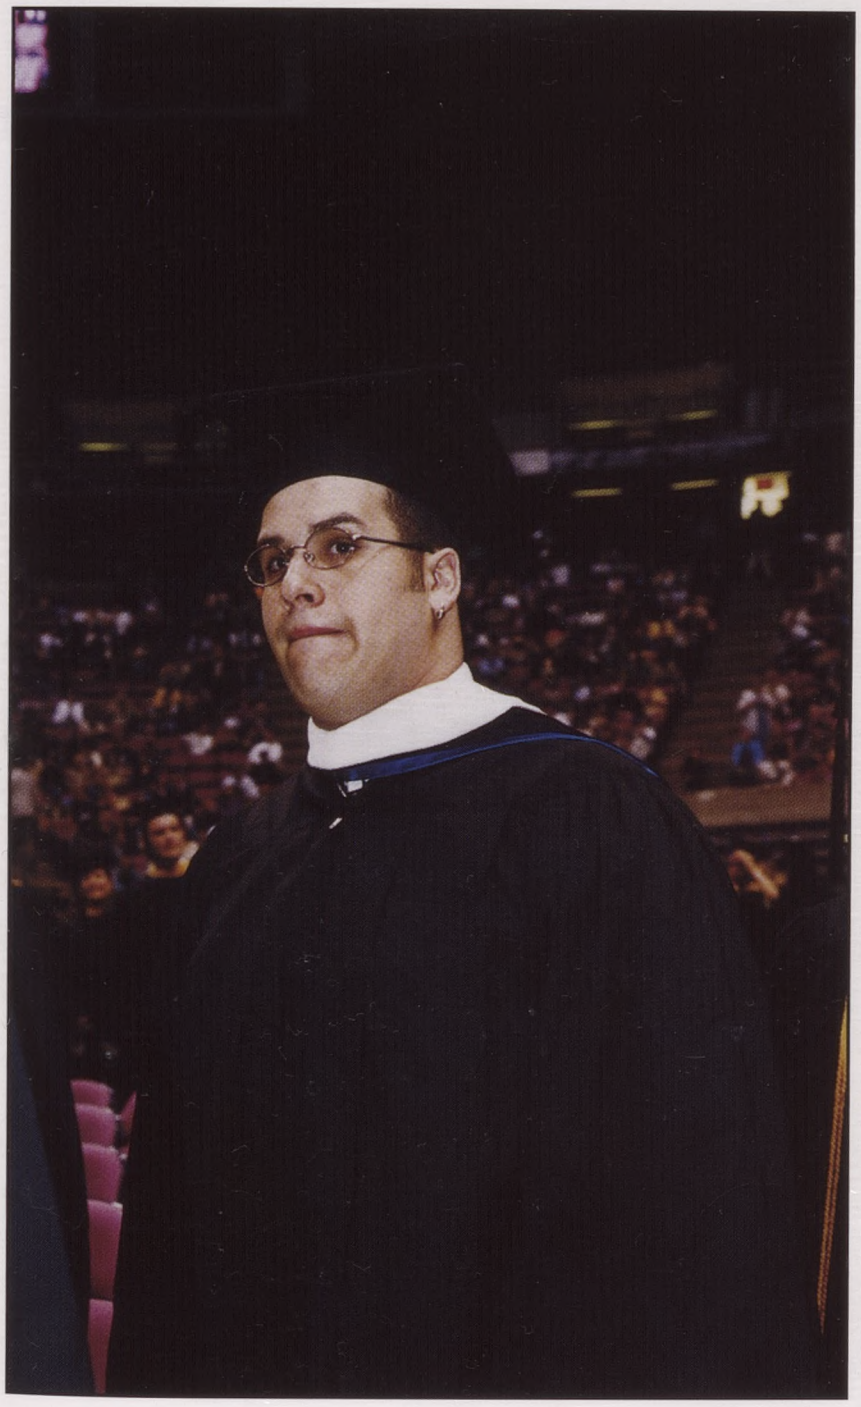

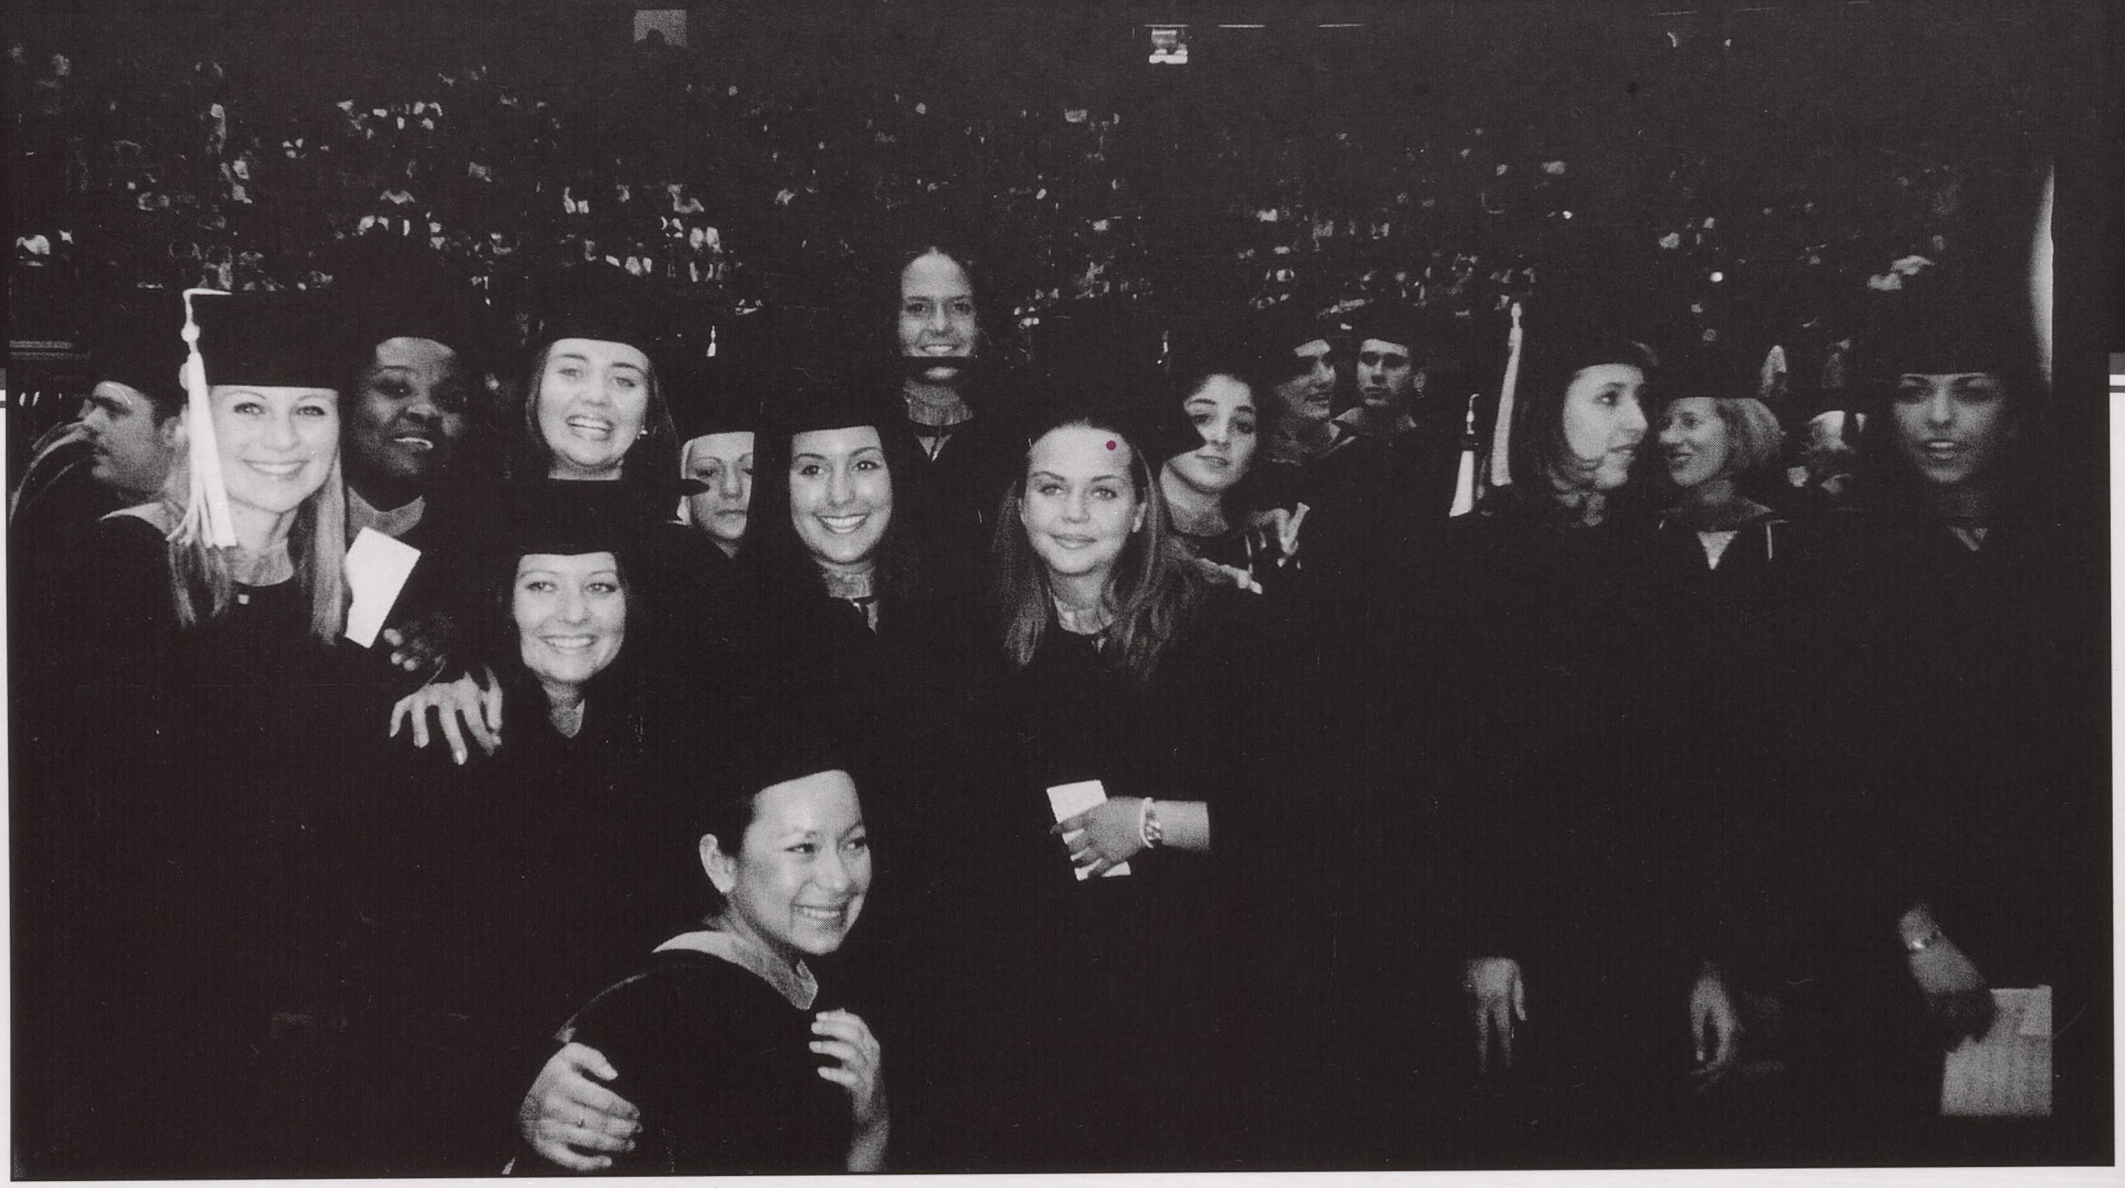

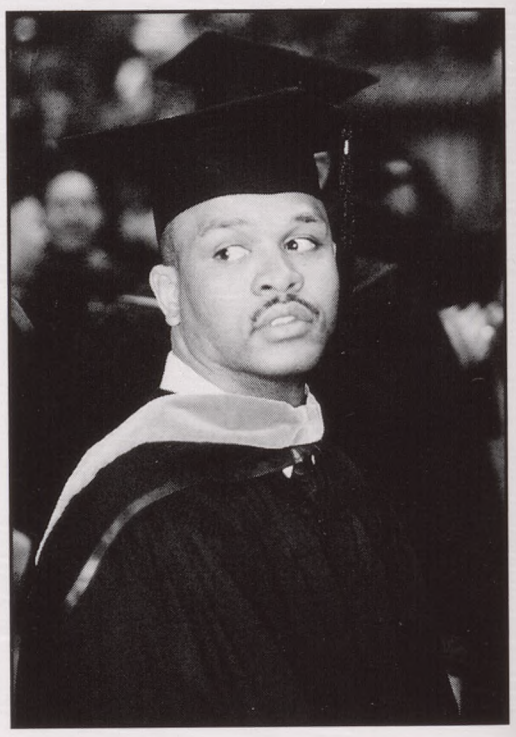

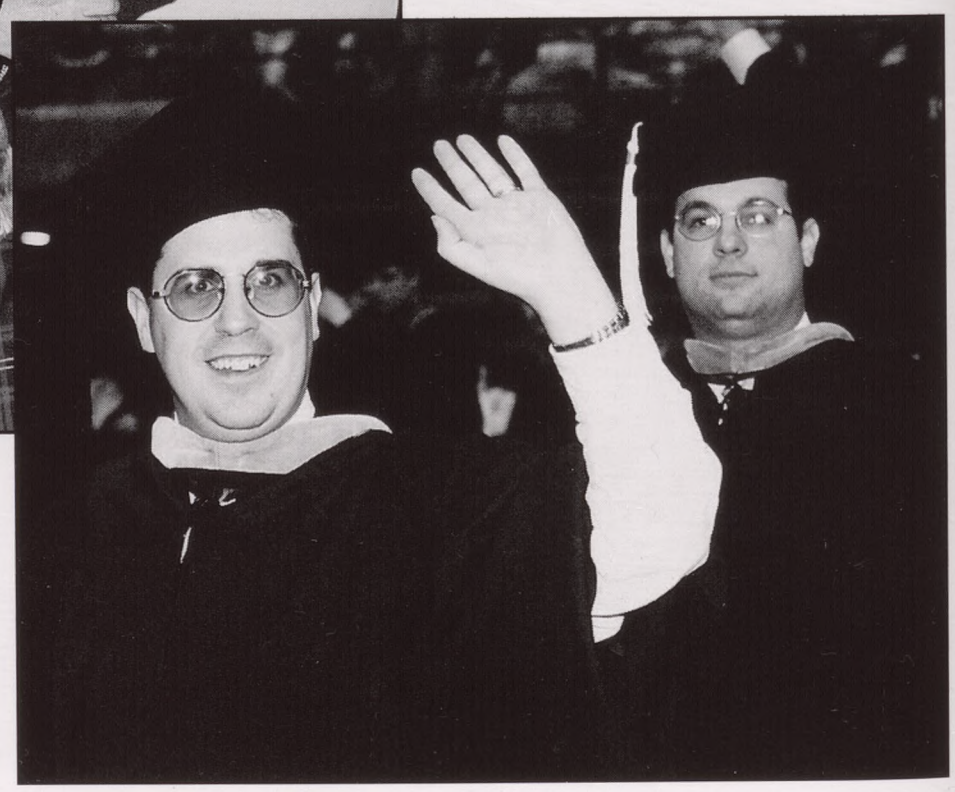

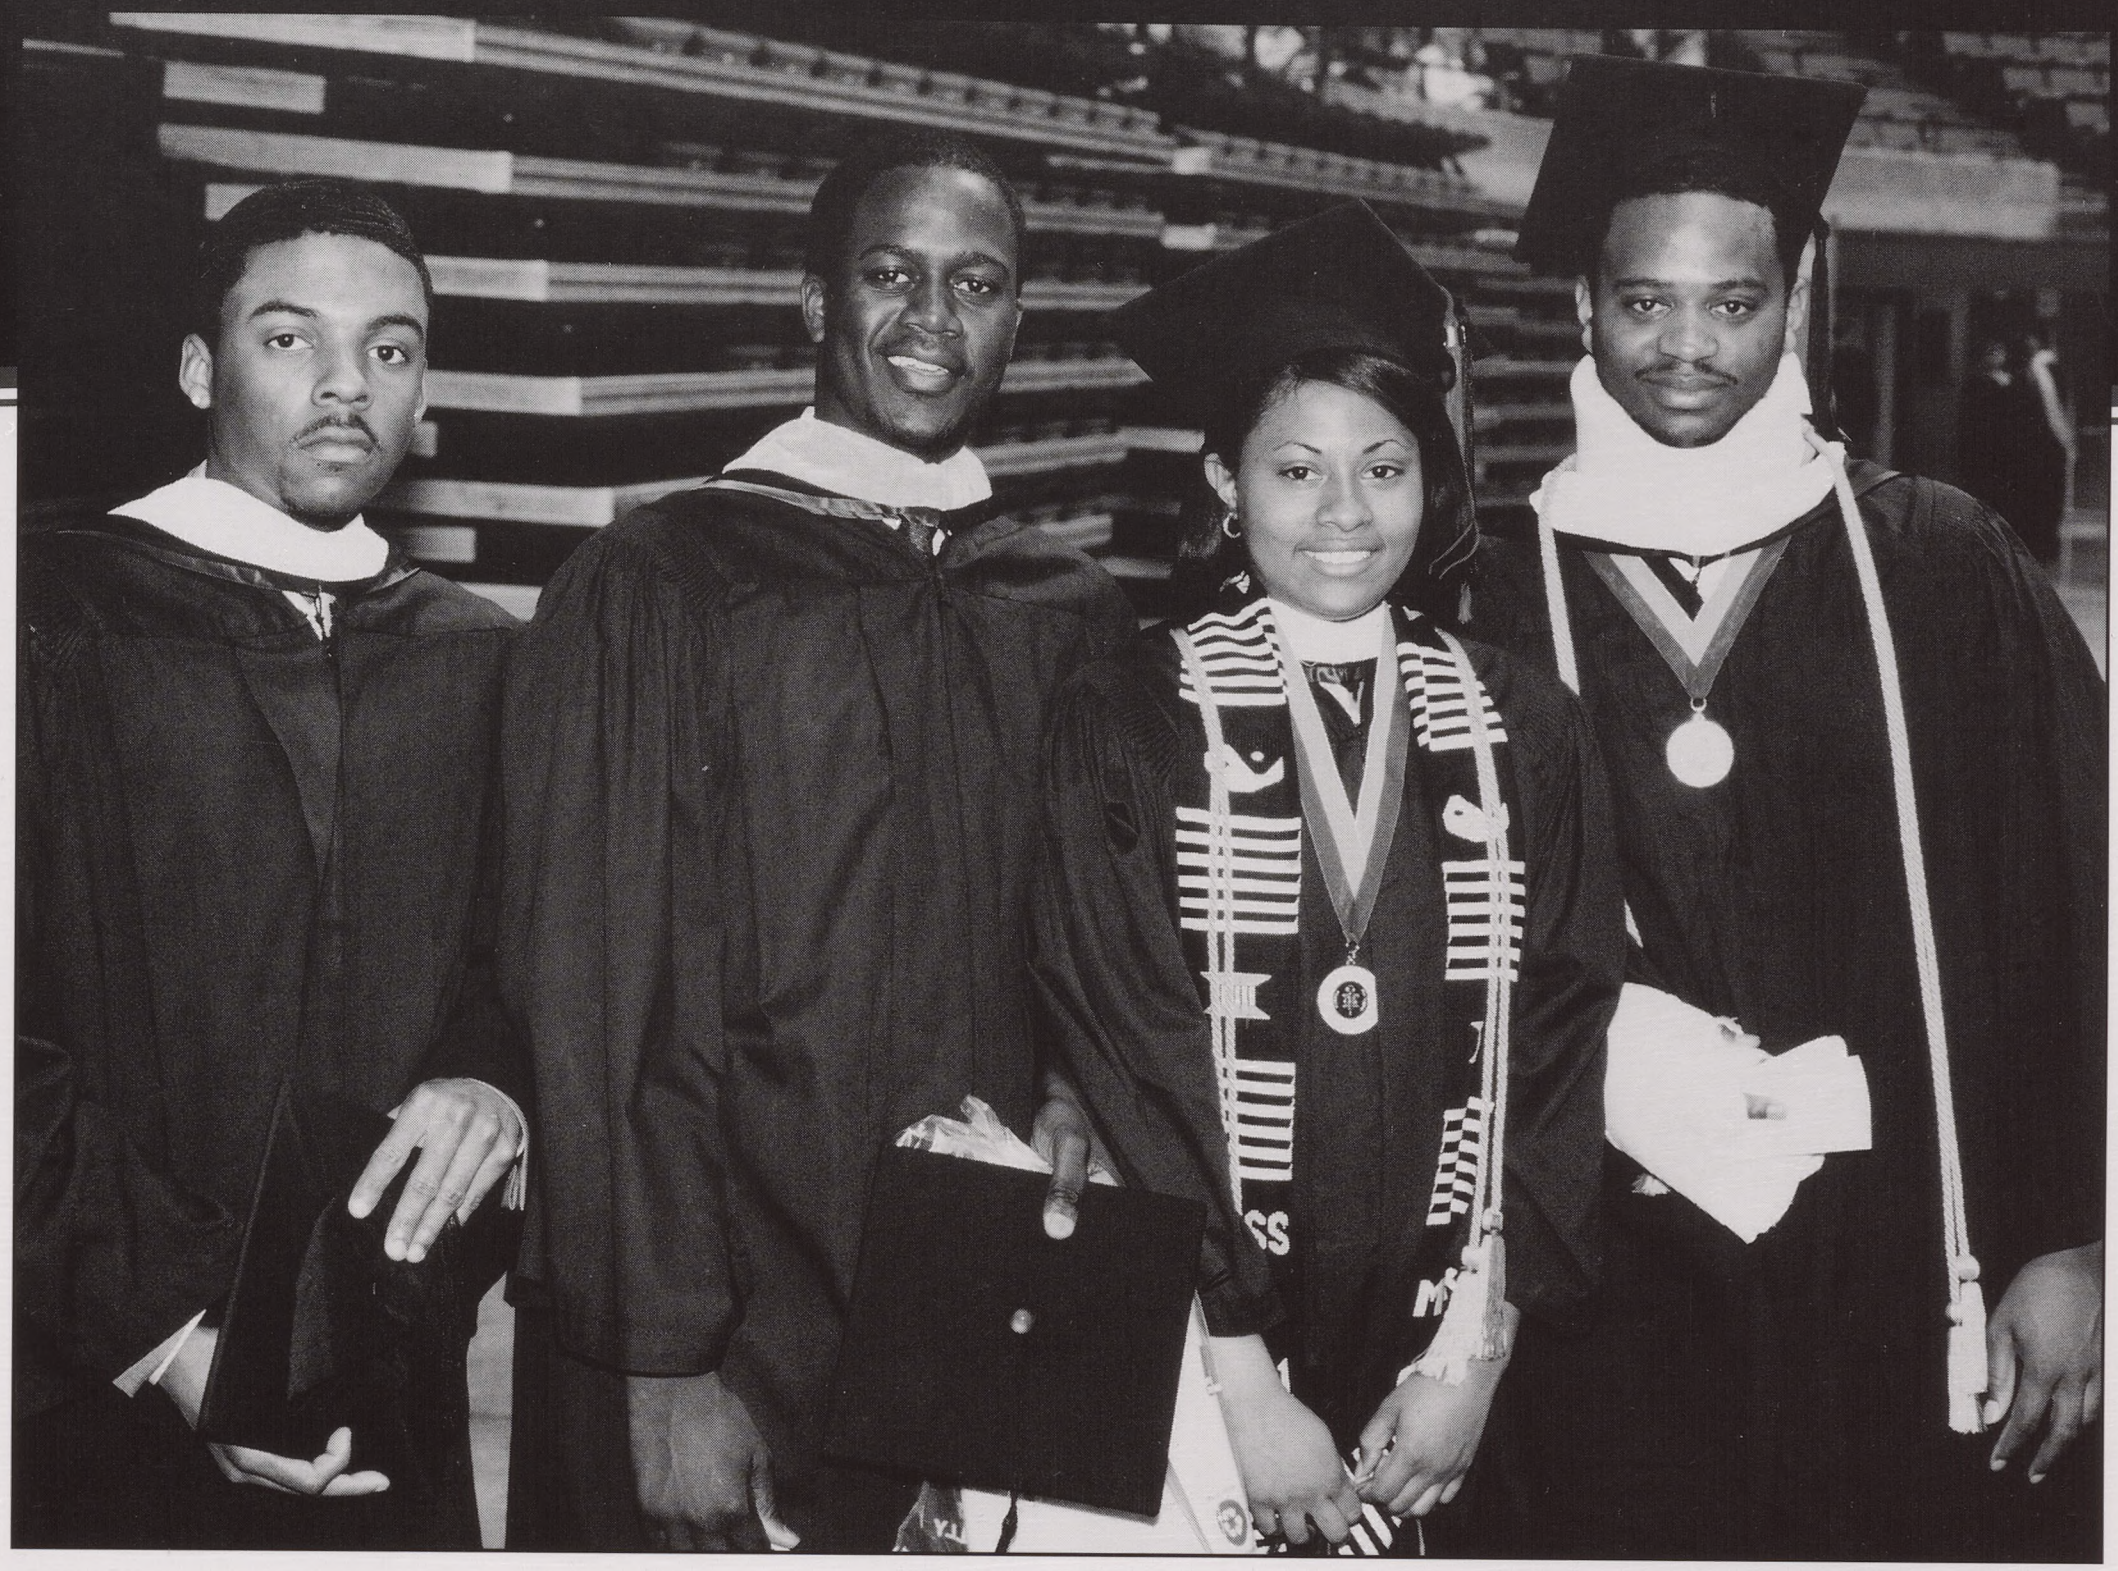

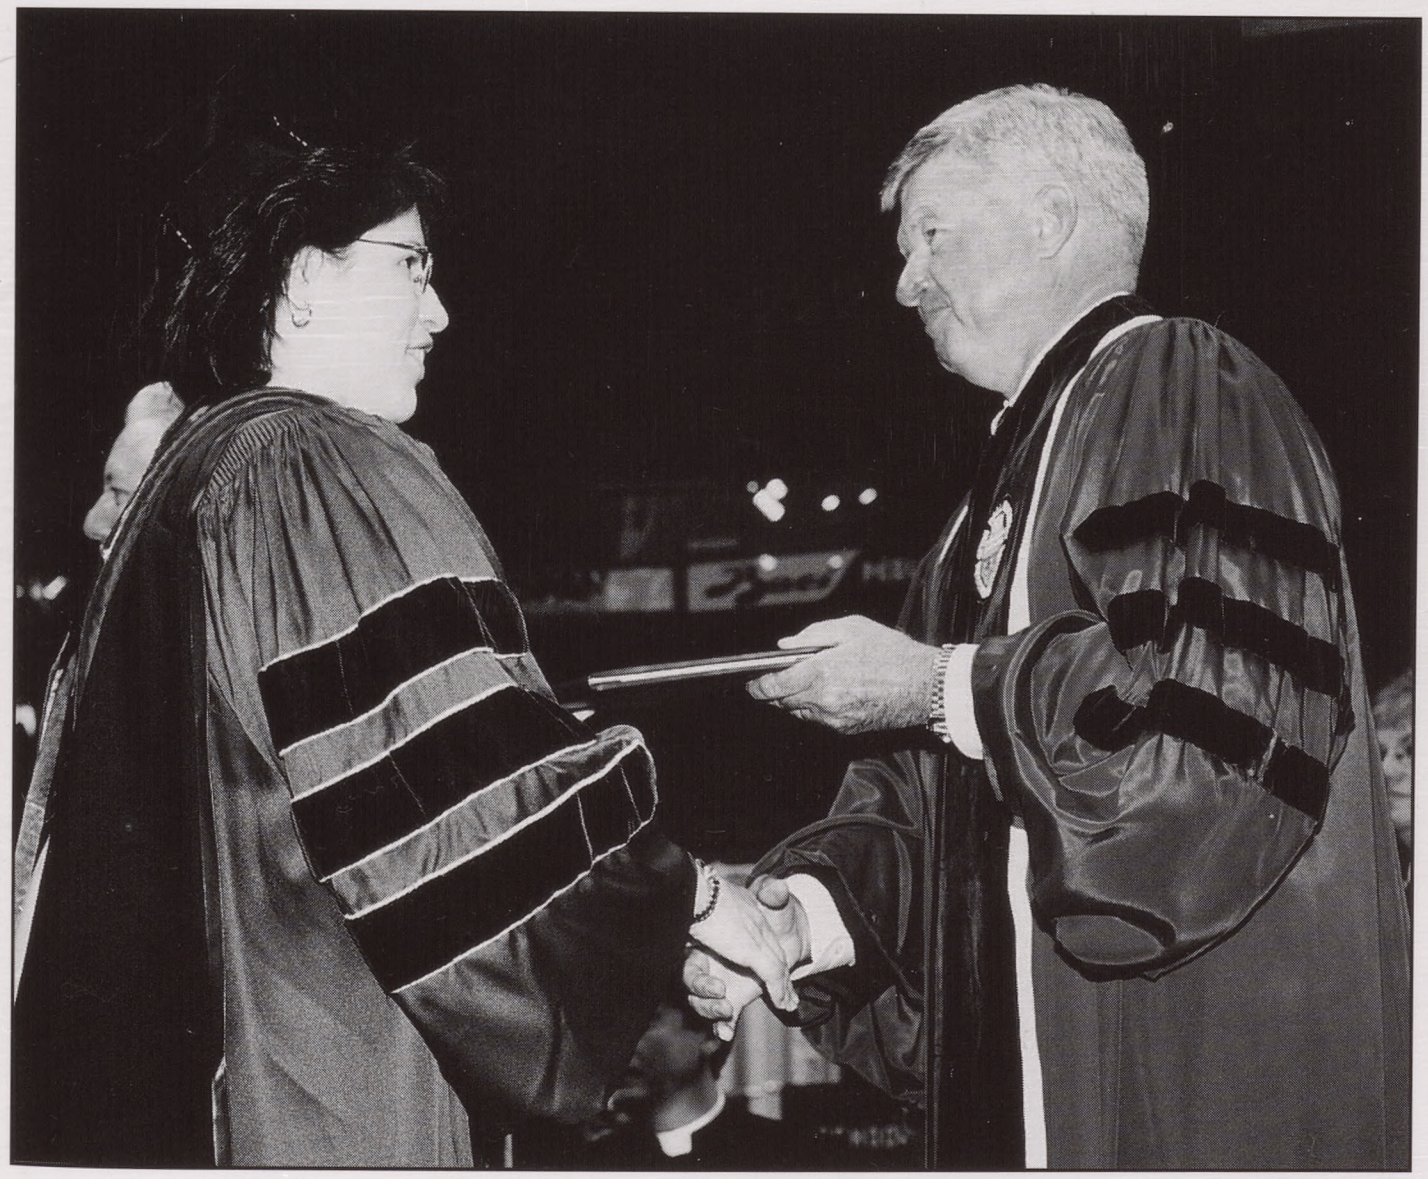

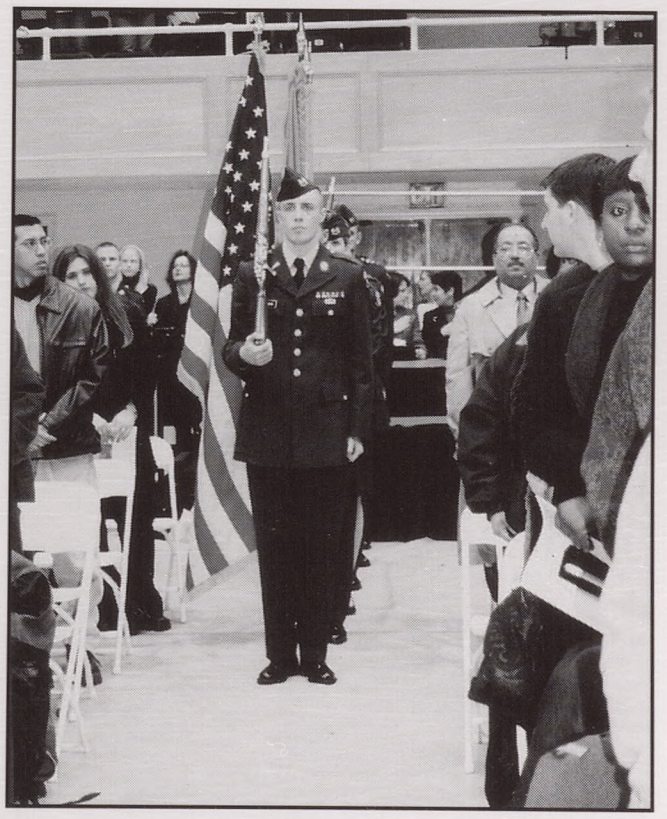

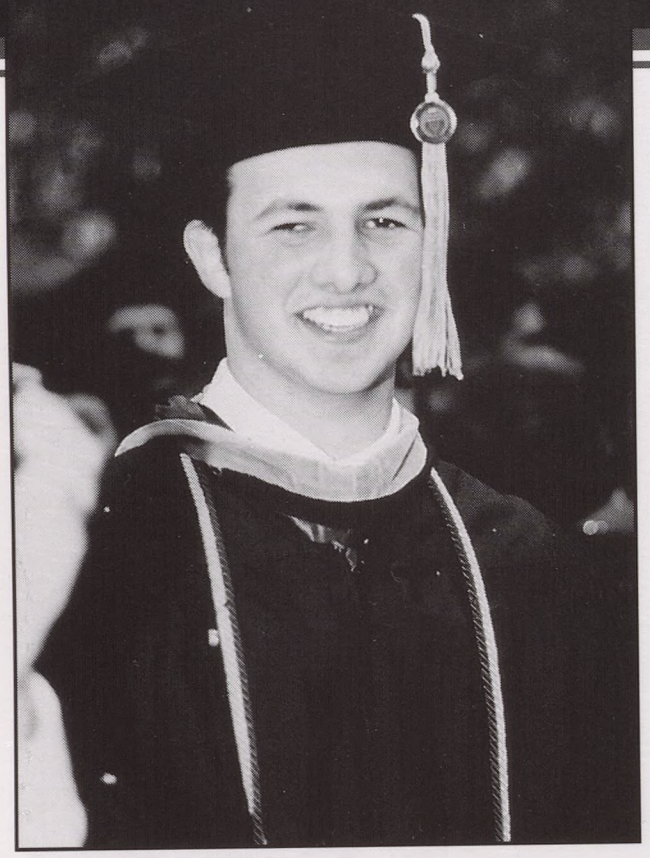

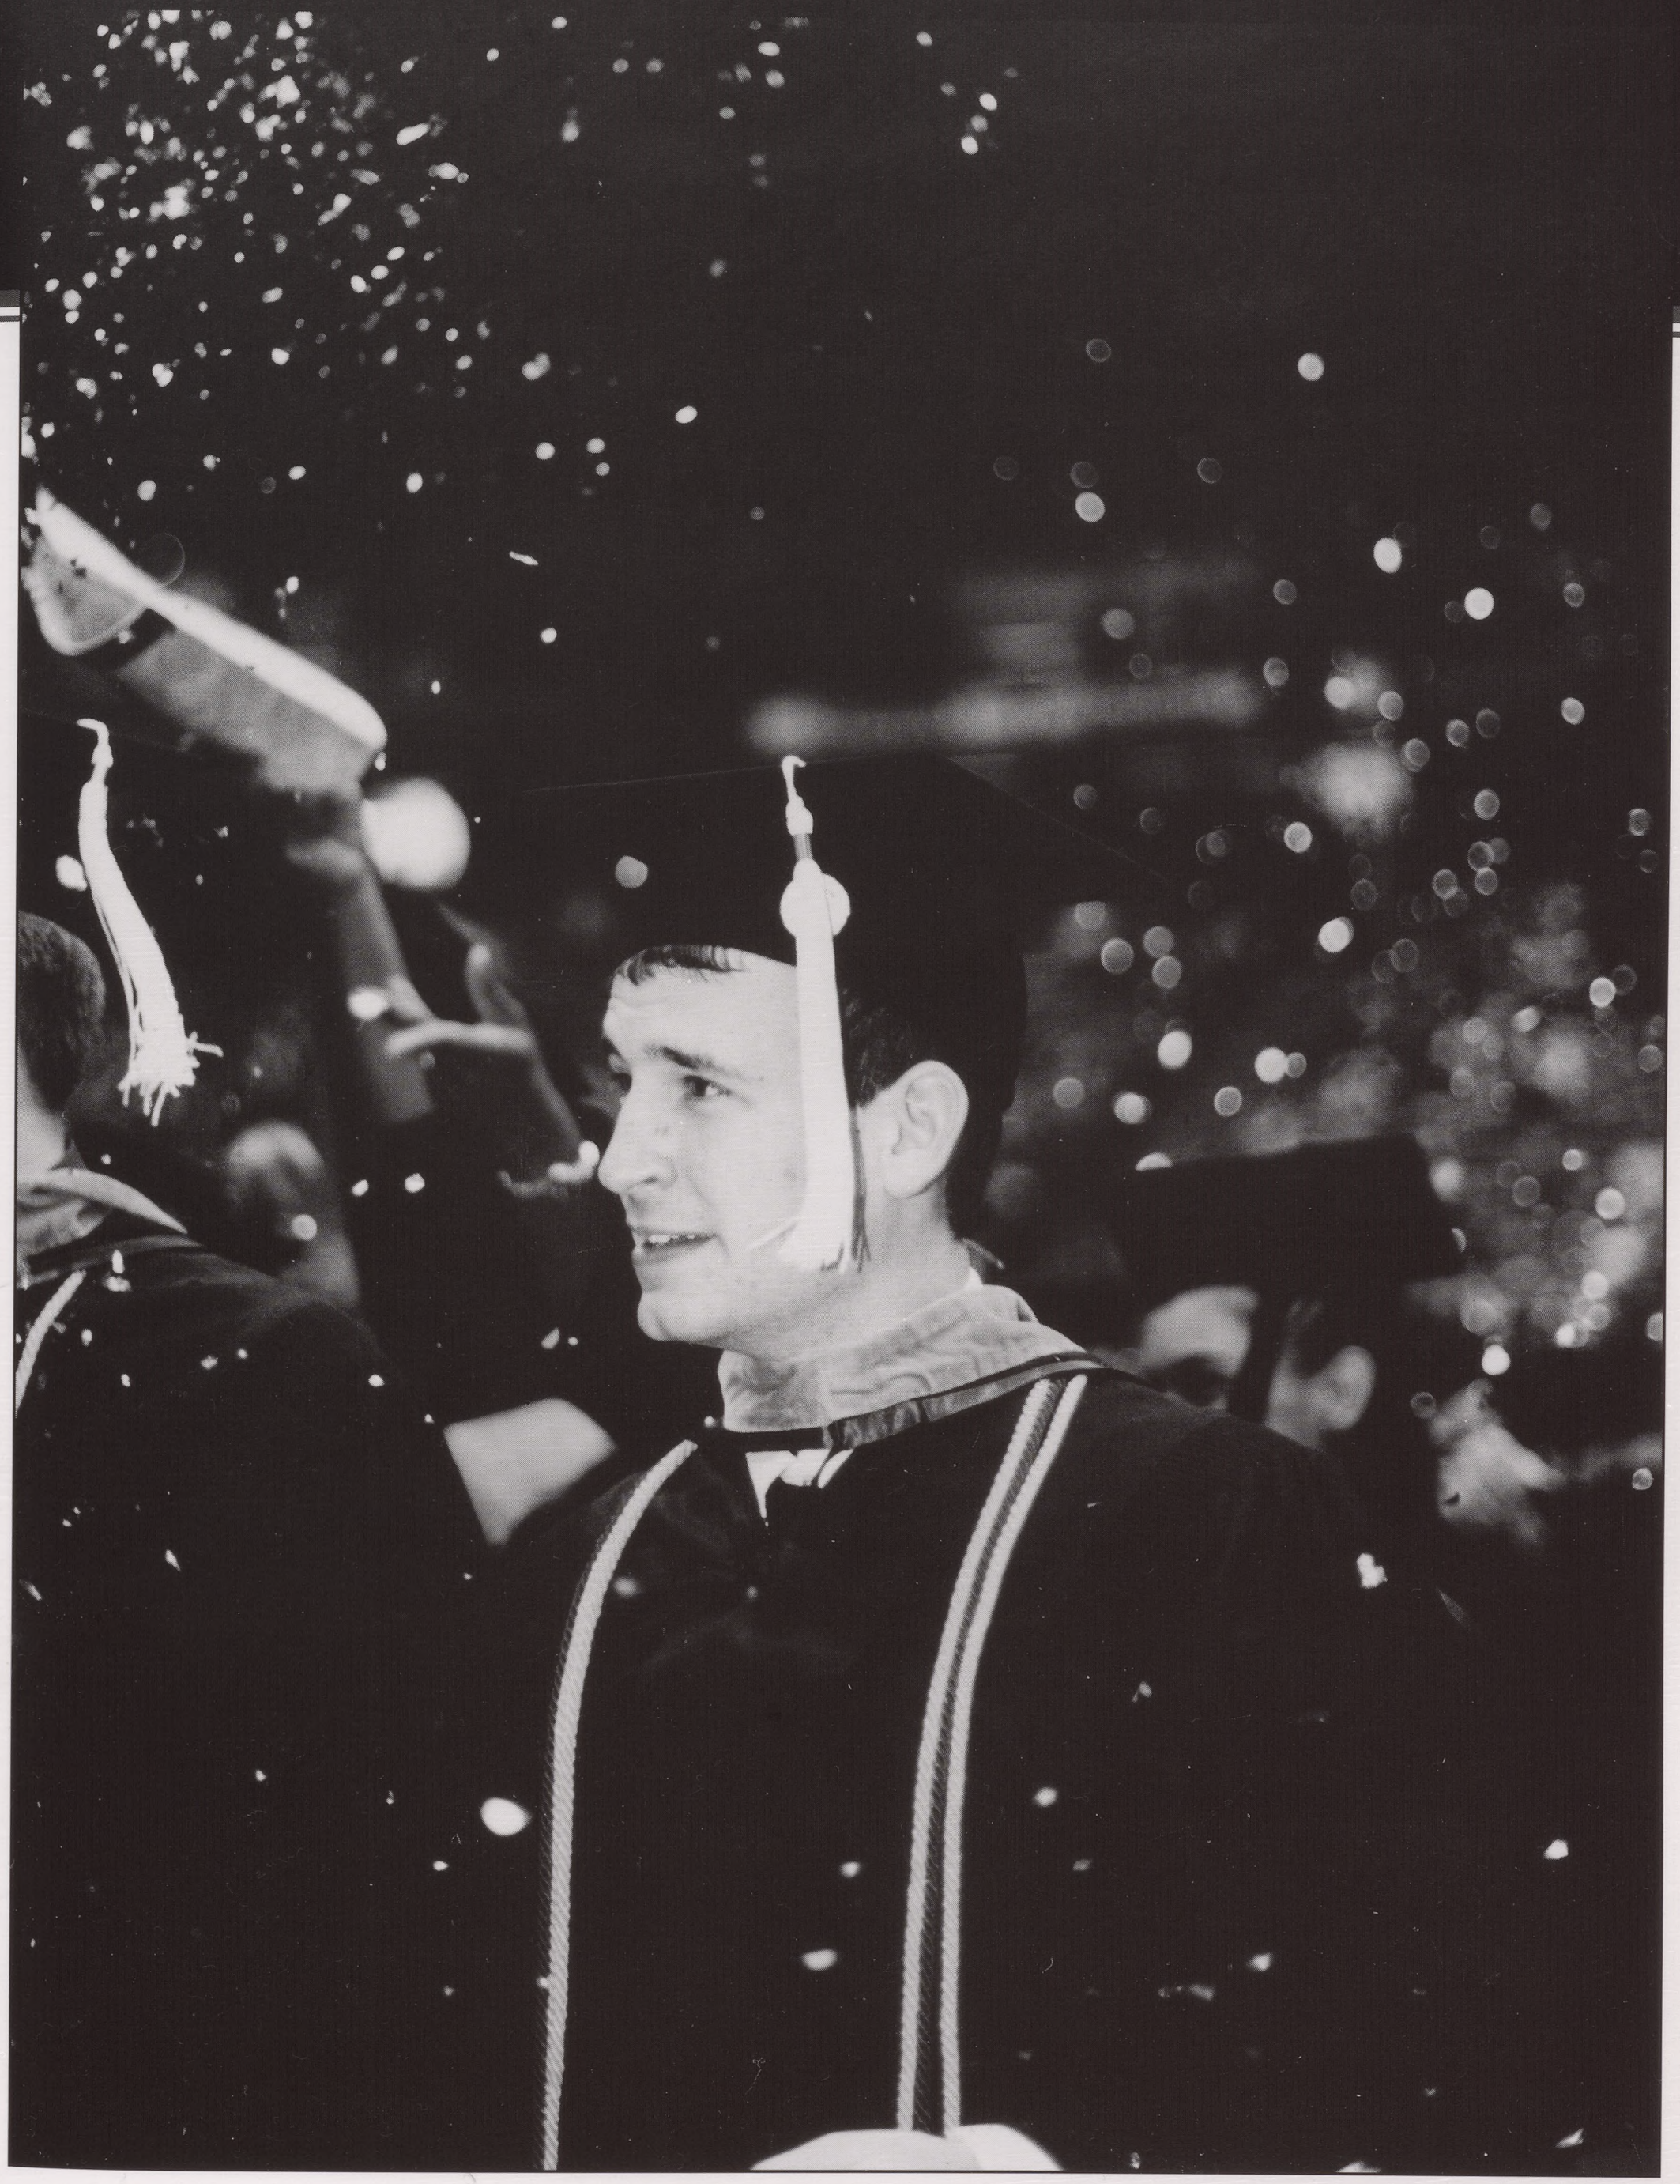

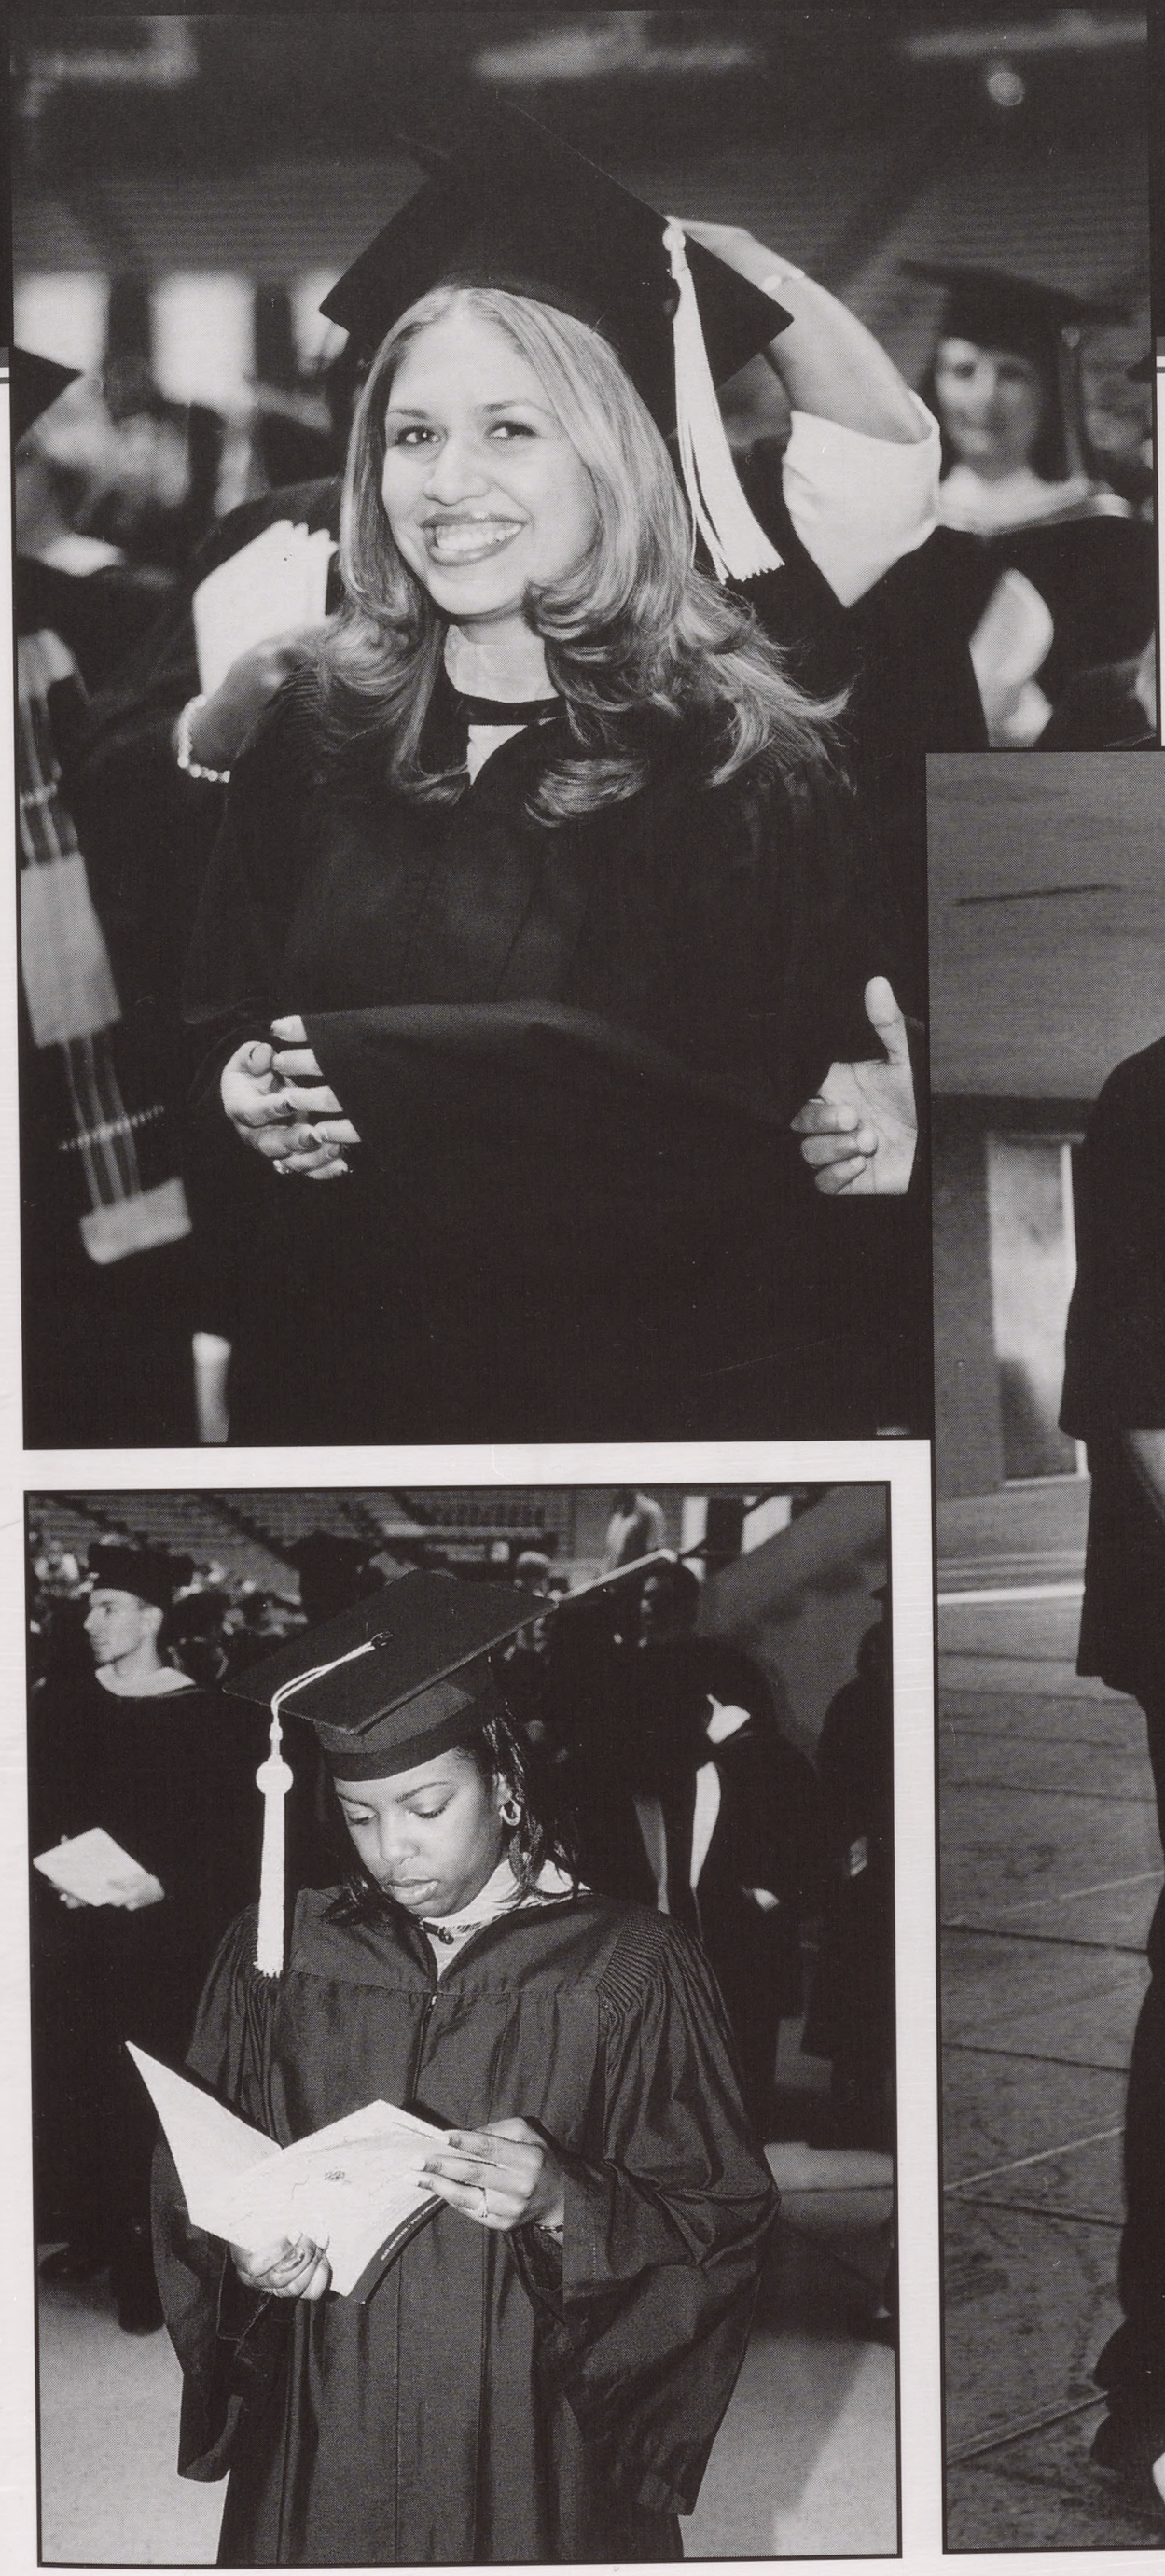

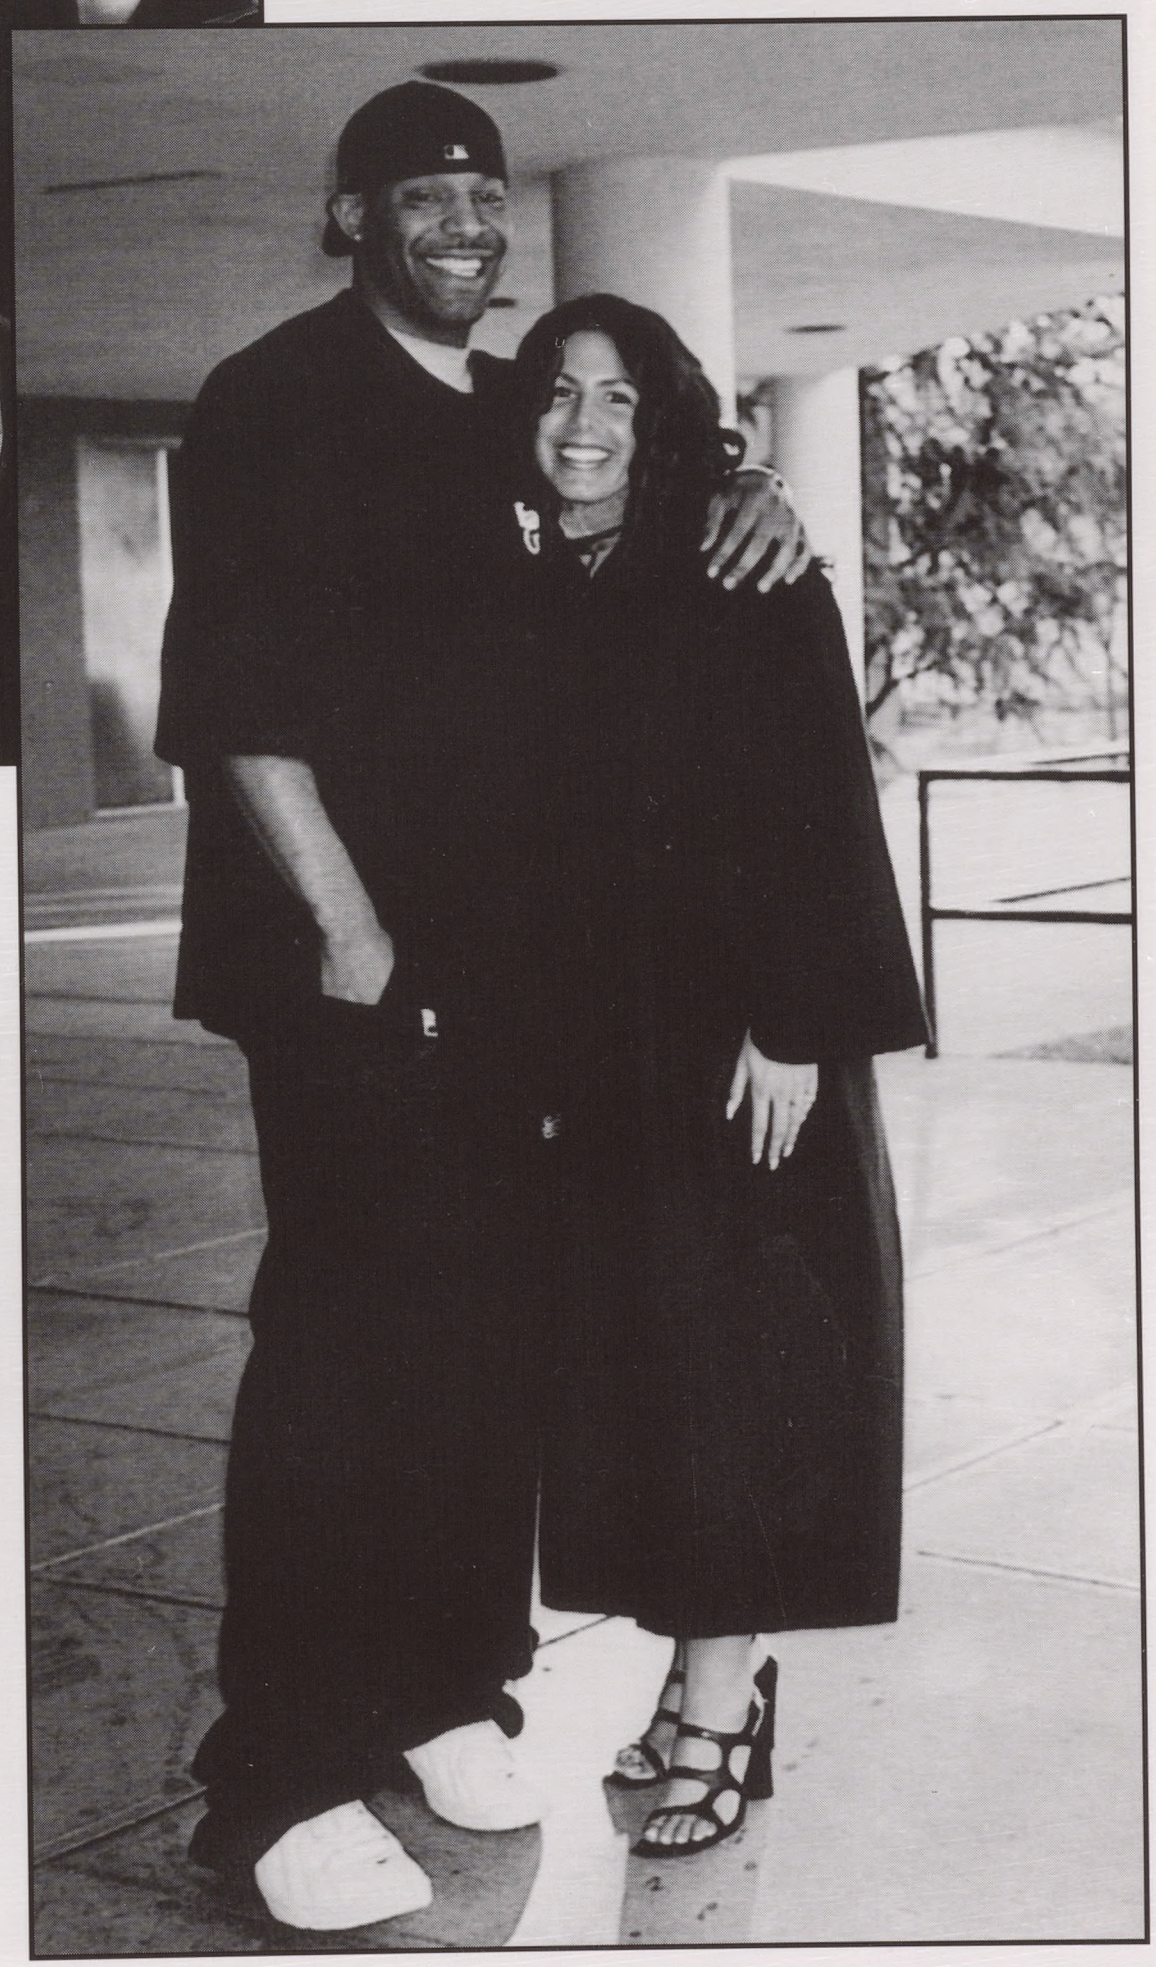

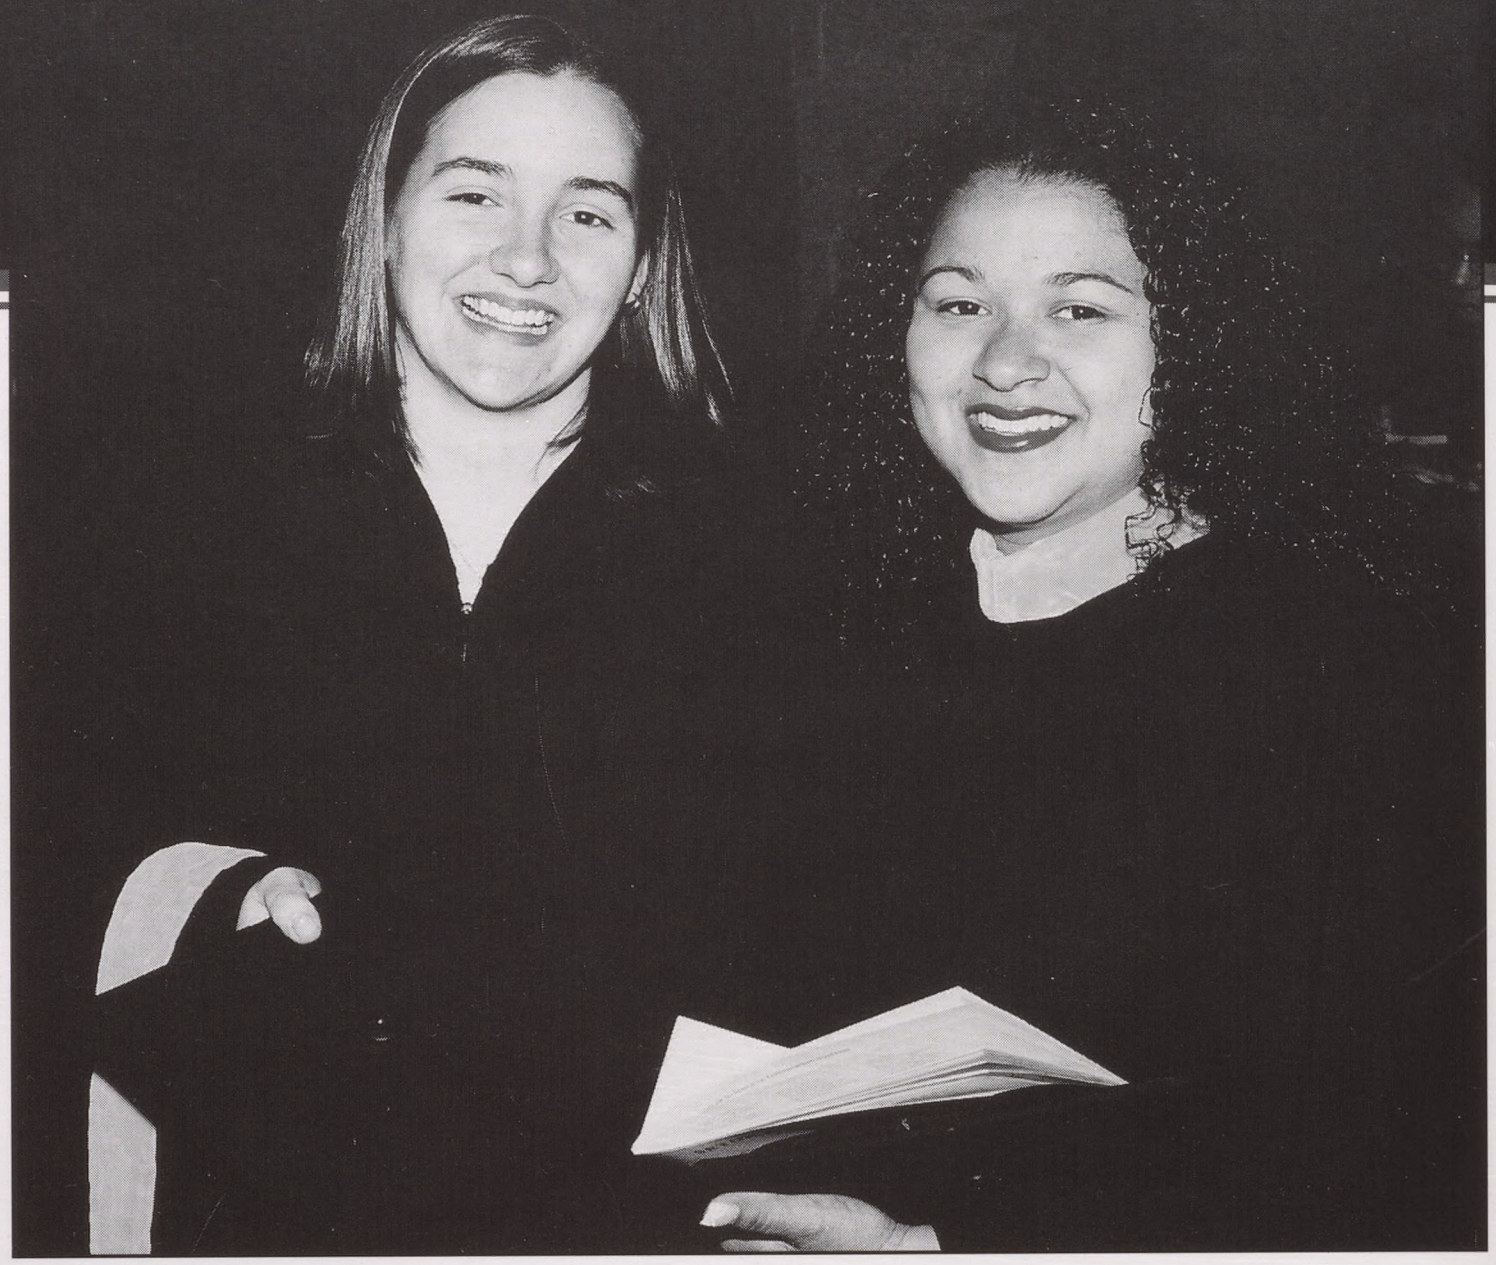

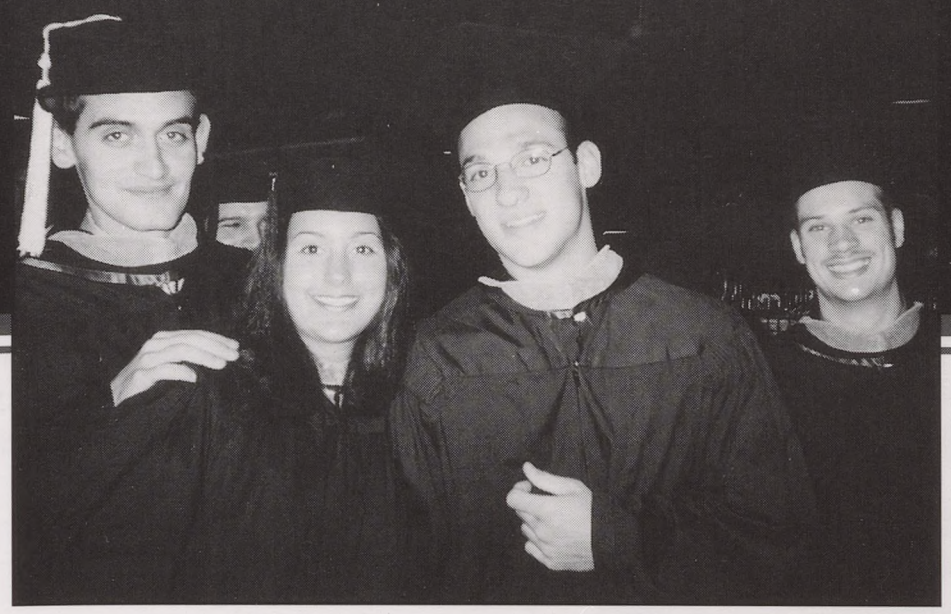

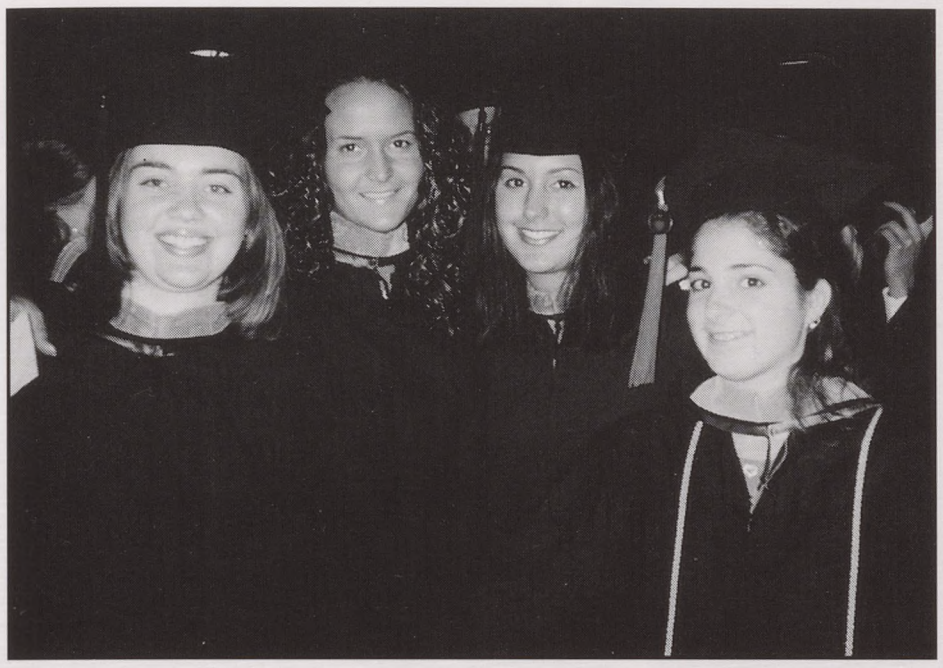

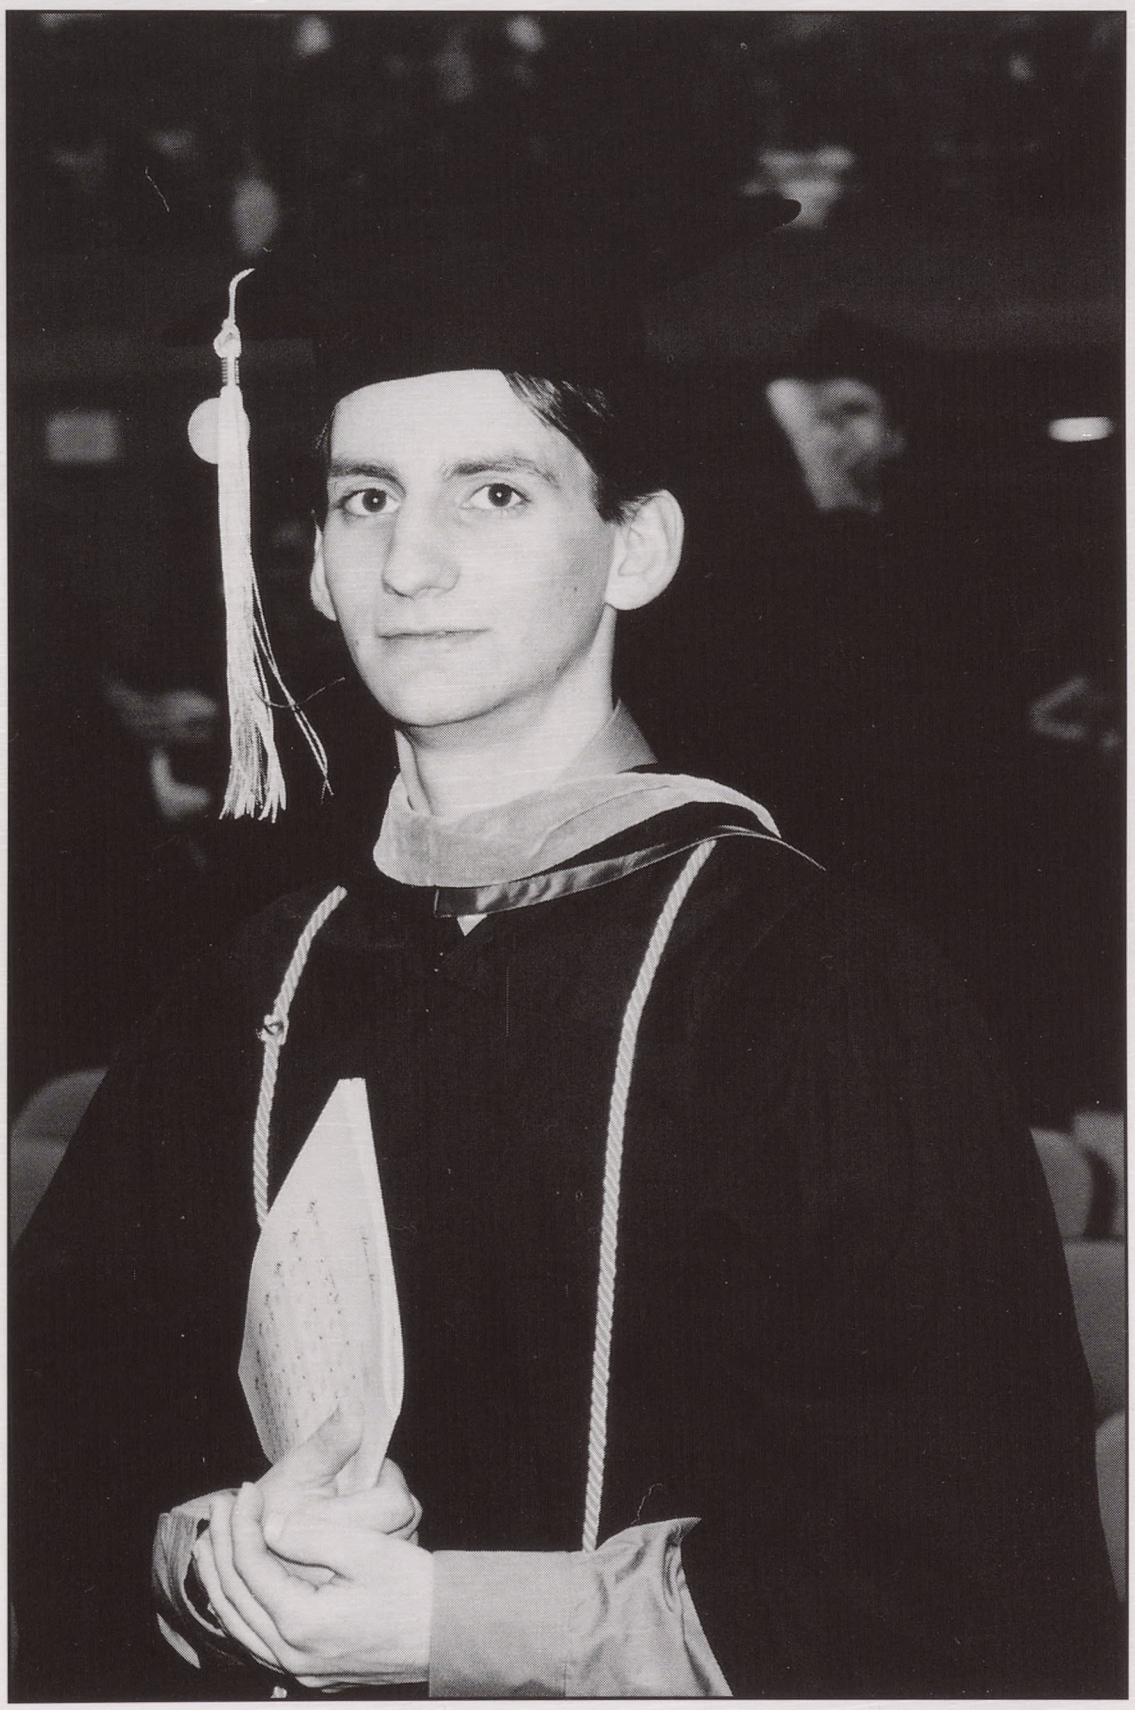

Congratulatory Messages

Anthony L. Aguanno

Thank you son for a job well done.
We are very proud of you. As always, you surprise us by continuing to raise the bar. We wish you the very best for the future and hope you reach your ultimate goal.

Love and Good Luck,
Mom, Dad and Arthur

Anthony Albanese

We are all very proud of you and your accomplishments. Your hard work has paid off. You are a very special person. We wish you much success and happiness.

With love always,
Mom, Dad, Joe, Smokey, Grandma
and "Grandpa"

Jeffrey Michael Alfano

Congratulations! You did it!
We are so proud of you and all you have achieved. As always we wish you the best as you continue on you road to success. May all you dreams come true. We love you!

Mom, Dad and Chris

Danielle L. Bean

Believe in who you are & TIG

Love Mom

Joseph Anthony Benvenuti

With much pride, joy and hope for all you'll be!
We are proud of you!

Love,
Mom, Dad and Lisa

Whatever course you decide upon,
there is always someone to tell you, "You are wrong."
There are always difficulties arising which tempt you to believe that your critics are right.
To map out a course of action and follow it to an end requires . . .
Courage.

~ Ralph Waldo Emerson

Congratulatory Messages

Jonathan Scott Burns

You may not know all that the world has to offer,
but we know that the world will be a better place
because of what you have to offer it.
And as all your tomorrows open themselves to you, never forget how proud you are of you.

Love,

Romulo B. Fernandez

Your college years earned you an iron stomach for fast-food and a leather-lined liver for alcohol.
Take charge of those dreams and make it happen. What you have to do now is get that advance degree so you can pay off your 30-year school loan. We are proud of you.
